Hospital Fund Drive Opens With Dinner at High School

THE MAIN BUILDING of the greater Newton-Wellesley Hospital in Newton, as it will look after the completion of the $2,250,000 expansion and modernization program, is shown in this architect's drawing. Addition of the seven-story, Y-shaped extension at left will increase the hospital's capacity to 395 patients. The new structure will incorporate a large, modern children's department, a psychiatric section, an enlarged maternity floor and also more space for laboratories and for specialized services. Additional examining and operating facilities for the emergency department, a central oxygen distributing system, a new clinic conference room and library are among other features. Architects are Coolidge, Shepley, Bulfinch and Abbott of Boston.

$2,250,000 to Be Raised for Expansion Of Newton-Wellesley Hospital

More than 1200 men and women of Newton are covering every section of the city this week-end in an intensive campaign to complete the $2,250,000 building fund for the expansion of Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

The two-week public campaign for the fund swung into high speed Tuesday night when nearly 1000 members of the volunteer teams organization held their opening dinner meeting in the gymnasium of Newton High School, and heard an announcement by Robert H. Whidden, associate general chairman of the building fund committee, that the total of the fund now stands at $1,157,549.

Other principal speakers who stressed the importance of the successful completion of the fund were Neil Leonard, chairman of the building fund who

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy Passes Away

Dr. D. Brewer Eddy, 82 Kirk-stall Road, Newtonville, internationally known Congregational churchman, missionary leader and lecturer on world current events, died Saturday morning, June 1, at his summer home in West Falmouth, Mass. Dr. Eddy served 36 years as a Secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and retired in 1944. He was in his 69th year. Since retirement he has continued to speak widely on international affairs and on the Christian missionary enterprise.

Born in Leavenworth, Kansas, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Alfred Eddy, Dr. Eddy was a direct descendant of Priscilla Alden of Pilgrim fame. His parents were members of a pioneer Kansas family, and his mother the late Margaret Norton Eddy, for many years a resident of New York City, was well known there and throughout the country for her interest in education and in Christian missions.

DR. D. BREWER EDDY

Dr. Eddy was educated at Yale University (Class of 1898; A.B., A.M. 1901); Wesleyan University (DD 1921); Hartford Theological Seminary; Oxford University, England; and Auburn Theological Seminary.

Dr. Hitchen Will Return to Europe

Scheduled to make his second flight to Great Britain next Tuesday, June 9, Dr. Herbert Hitchen will preach his "farewell" sermon entitled "We Belong to a Fellowship" Sunday morning, June 9, at the West Newton Unitarian Church.

Loaned by the First Unitarian Society in Newton to the American Unitarian Association as director of the Department of Foreign Churches, this will be Dr. Hitchen's second trip abroad this year. His itinerary at present calls for flight to Scotland (Continued on Page 5)

Building for All Newton Music School Assured

In spite of the many demands upon the generosity of everyone in these days, all indications point to the fact that the people of Newton really want a Music Centre, that they approve the initiative of the Board of Trustees of the All Newton Music School in procuring a building in a central location, and that they are willing to help make this dream of years come true. This response is very much appreciated by all connected with the school.

Plans are now under way to make the necessary alterations during the summer, so that the school may start the new fall term in its new quarters. Every effort will be made to make the building suitable for school activities and to make it a real music home for its students.

Pupils of the music school are planning ways of earning money to add to the growing fund. One boy proudly brought in a new five dollar bill which was part of what he had been paid for a puppy he had raised. Another pupil has gathered together all of the music with which she has finished and plans to sell it at half-price, turning over the proceeds to the building fund.

Thirty Organizations Represented In Memorial Day Parade

MISS JEAN DeMAY LAFAYETTE, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold F. Lafayette of 21 Hinckley road, Waban, who will receive her B.S. degree at the Commencement exercises of Framingham Teachers' College on June 9.

With more than 1,500 in the line of march representing more than 30 organizations, the Memorial Day Parade was formed this year in Newtonville at 10 a.m., and proceeded over Walnut street to the Newton Cemetery where memorial services were held dedicated to the city's martyred dead of all wars in which our country participated. Near the head of the procession was a group of gold star mothers who rode in automobiles.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall gave the address at the memorial exercises in Newton Cemetery.

On the way to the cemetery a stop was made by the marchers at the Honor Roll on the City Hall grounds where a brief service was held for those who gave their lives in World War II.

Following the services in the cemetery, the units reassembled and marched to the City Hall where they were reviewed by the chief marshal, Mayor Paul M. Goddard, and his staff.

Collection of Food in Tins Is Lagging Here

Result to date Is Disappointing; Residents Urged to Make Donations

The collection of tin cans of food which is being conducted in Newton during this week and ending Sunday, has not to date shown the response that previous drives of this nature have produced.

The emergency food collection here is in cooperation with the nation-wide effort on behalf of the U.N.R.R.A. to provide food for the starving people of war-torn countries who have less than enough food to live on. Americans are eating more today than they ever ate before. (Continued on Page 5)

The World Famine

The world famine is appalling. We sometimes feel our country is feeding everybody everywhere. The blunt fact is that, so far, of all the nations of the world ours has made the smallest proportional response to the food crisis brought on by a common war, and by drought.

Canada and Britain have intensified their rationing, since war's end; save for sugar, we've dropped ours. Canada has exceeded many of her commitments to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA). Britain has stripped her food reserves below safety level to help alleviate starvation.

We promised UNRRA 300,000,000 pounds of meat in the first three months this year, but didn't deliver half that amount. We delivered only half the 1,200,000 tons of wheat we had promised for the same period.

Now that the famine is reaching its peak, what are our plans?

One thing we can all do, right now, is back the Emergency Food Collection in our community. It offers everyone a simple, direct and personal means of giving quick additional help to the hungry and starving overseas.

The main objective of the collection is to secure cash gifts. More food can be obtained for a given amount of money if it can be bought centrally and in large quantities. Saving is also effected in pick-up, packing and transportation costs. The secondary objective is to procure food packed in tin cans.

There is no better way, it seems to us, to obtain more food and dispatch it quickly to the areas of greatest need.

Think what it would mean if each family gave a substantial money gift, and, in addition, set aside a can of food a day for our afflicted neighbors—just for one month!

Scores of thousands in Europe and Asia appear certainly doomed. But we can save many other lives if we get behind the Emergency Food Collection and really push.

LETTER BOX

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

Any warning you may give youngsters of Newton through your paper will be greatly appreciated by the Postmaster of Boston and local postoffice superintendents. This is in regard to wilfully damaging or removing letter box signs, especially in the area served by the Newton Corner branch. Despite a warning of it being a Federal offense and calling for a $1000 fine or three years imprisonment youngsters continue to wreck letter box signs. New signs are damaged within 24 hours of their installation. Many of the boxes are located near schools. These receive the worst treatment. Police and the School department have been asked to cooperate and any help through the press will be greatly appreciated. Parents are also asked to help curb this nuisance since by the repeated destruction of letter box signs they are unable to know when their letters can be picked up or will arrive at their destination on time. It is estimated that over 500 new letter box signs have been replaced during the past three years in Newton because of this wilful and continuous damaging of mail box signs.

Politics With Color

by P. W. C.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

Lee vs. Patrick

Despite the fact that I wrote a little piece about the contest for the State Senate in the Republican primary on June 18, and indicated a few weeks ago that I preferred to "sit out" that particular affair, it seems to me that I owe something to those of my readers who are not unduly politically-minded. Bearing in mind that type of audience, I propose to do a bit of thinking out loud.

Here we have two unusually high-grade, personable men of real substance, each with a more than average military, civic and professional record. A few politics may wish to quibble over the military records of these two men, but what's the point? Some World War II veterans may give Lee the edge because of his actual combat experience overseas. However, what many people do not realize is that the men in the AMG (Allied Military Government), where Patrick did his work, were also under fire from time to time and were active participants in various D-Days, both in the European and Asiatic theatres. So much for that.

If we consider the civic and professional records of the two candidates we see at a glance that each man has something worthwhile to talk about. Here again one can quibble and emphasize some one item which appeals to him or to her. But again, what's the point?

As this column is being written only the Patrick endorses are in my possession. I understand that the Lee list will be available shortly. There is no question about this phase of the campaign. Regardless of what success the Newton entry may have, it will be humanly impossible to equal the West Newton man's high-powered list of endorsers. Incidentally, Lee was well aware of this situation before he filed his papers. He suspected that a large fraction of the so-called Republican machine would be "on the line" for Patrick. He was right. To be sure, the days have gone by when a candidate for any office can present a fine list of names and expect to walk into public office solely on that account. However, prominent names are still very valuable, especially in a conservative city like Newton, where thousands of substantial citizens are still in the habit of taking recommendations from the politically-wise.

What is my opinion of the probable outcome of this interesting race? That is a fair question and can be answered without making any personal commitment of my own. I still wish that I could vote for both men. It seems to me that Loomis Patrick, as matters stand today, has a definite edge over Richard H. Lee. In a light vote, it will be extremely difficult for Lee to win. In a fairly heavy vote, a vote participated in by thousands of people who know little and care less about the merits of so-called organization support, Lee would have a real chance to come through. It is my honest guess that many of those citizens who prefer definite liberalism to middle-of-the-road conservatism, will vote for Lee. My readers' guess is just as good as mine, as to how many of this type will be on hand June 18 to vote for either candidate.

Finally, at the risk of being accused of taking sides, may I say what I always say prior to election-day? GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE, regardless of HOW you vote. Democracy doesn't mean a thing if only 15 to 25 per cent of the voters perform their civic duty at primaries and at elections.

Councillor Whitney
One of the positions in the public service which never gets the attention it deserves is the position of Governor's Councillor. We in Newton were most fortunate for many years in having as our Councillor that tried and true veteran in the public service the late Frank A. Brooks of West Concord. He was just the man for the job. He had to buck the Curley regime and the Coakley regime and what a grand job he did.

On June 18 the Republican voters of Newton will have an opportunity to give a vote of confidence to Councillor Otis M. Whitney of Concord a close friend of Frank A. Brooks and one of his ardent admirers. Councillor Whitney has two opponents in the primary one from Lowell and one from Boston. My opinion is that the Concord man should win a substantial victory, provided that Newton voters, in particular, make it a point to study their ballots carefully before marking them. Leading Republicans throughout the city have already endorsed Councillor Whitney and have been spreading the word that he is the right man in the right spot. Personally, I can vouch for the sitting Councillor, whom I have known for a good many years. You can't go wrong if you vote to return him to his seat on the Governor's Council in our Third District.

Weekly Quiz

There was a slight mix-up last week and the answer to the previous week's quiz was not printed. I had asked how far back it was necessary to go to find someone other than a Hurley in the position of Treasurer and Receiver General. The answer is 1930. That was the last year of John W. Haigis's tenure of office. He was a Republican.

The answer to last week's quiz is this;—the late Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson of West Newton was the first lady to be honored with election to the School Committee in Newton.

This week's question follows:—What American lady is an official delegate to the UNO?

ON THE INSIDE

by MARVIN R. GOULD

Many of my readers have asked me just who the youngsters were with the white Tom Brown belts and Green Cross for Safety pins. So doing a little "On The Inside" investigation we found out not only who they were but what they were doing and why. They are plain ordinary students who were elected by their fellow students to aid the Newton Police in a new type of safety program in Newton schools. Every one of these young guardians of safety have been thoroughly trained by expert instructors from the Traffic Bureau of the Police Department. The student safety officers have no authority to interfere with motorists, their job is to keep the students from running out onto streets filled with traffic. They operate only from the sidewalk. At the present time there are about 15 schools engaged in this program but their number is rapidly increasing. When asked just how efficient the student monitors are, Frank M. Simmons, head of the safety program in schools replied, "These students are a definite aid to the teachers in preventing accidents, they have done a good job and I am quite confident that they will continue to do a good job."

It is the opinion of this reporter that this is a definite step in the direction of friendship between the "long arm of the law" and the citizens of tomorrow. A typical example that shows that whenever a kid has an accident, he knows where to turn, is the following news item. Ordinarily an item of this sort is too trivial to print but I sincerely feel that this bit of fact is better than the opinions of 10,000 writers.

David Levins of 286 Ward street was playing in his home with a few neighborhood friends, David jumped from the top of the stairs hoping to land on his feet, but instead, he landed on his head cutting it open. No adult was at home so immediately his friends ran for help, knowing that Officer Joe Charleton was on duty, they ran for "Joe" as all the youngsters call him. Upon reaching the scene of the accident, Joe bandaged the youths head and then contacted his parents. I believe that this story shows that when a "kid" is in trouble, he will always run to his friends and in this generation, the "neighborhood cop" is the "kid's" best friend.

Remember always try to prevent accidents but if one should occur, don't hesitate, call Police Headquarters where you are sure of friendly assistance.

Realizing that there are not many teen age activities progress during the summer months, "On The Inside" will be discontinued until next fall. However, if some important event concerning teen agers occurs during the summer, this column shall appear to give you news of the event. (I need a vacation too, you know).

M. R. G.

It is estimated that, instead of full employment, we were to have another depression comparable to that of 1929-32, farm cash income would drop to about 6½ billion dollars. Net income would fall to 3 billion, as against $11,400,000,000 under full employment.

Whether you own a car or not, the motor vehicle accident problem affects you. During 1945, two out of five motor vehicle fatalities were pedestrians, according to the National Safety Council.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNERS—Left to right: Joanna Muckenhoupt, 8 years old, Brownie Troop 79, Newton Highlands; Mary Patten, 10 years old, Girl Scout Troop 48, Auburndale. The contest was in connection with the Girl Scout recent collection of canned foods for overseas relief. The subject of the essay was "Why we should feed the children of Europe."

Announce Winners in Girl Scout Essay Contest Here

The winners in the recent Girl Scout Essay Contest, participated in by both the Browne Scouts and the Intermediate Scouts, have been announced.

For the Browne Scouts the topic was "Why Should We Feed the Boys and Girls of Europe?" The winner of the first prize was Joanna Muckenhoupt of 332 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, a member of Troop 79. The second prize went to Edythe Kelly, Troop 77, of 60 Williams street, Newton and third prize to Joan Lafford, 21 Church street, Newton, also of Troop 77.

The topic for the Intermediate Scouts was "Why Should We Feed the People of Europe?" and the winners were: First prize, Mary Patten of 174 Auburn street, Auburndale, member of Troop 48; Second prize, Charles Coakley of 39 Clark street, Newton Centre, Troop 30 and Third prize, Olive Ellis of 3 Newland street, Auburndale, of Troop 48.

Honorable mention went to 7 year old Browne Scout, Jacqueline Lamiet of 85 Brookside avenue, Newtonville, Troop 84, for her one sentence "Because we are Christians," and to Barbara Smith, 2057 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, Troop 48, in the Intermediate Scouts contest.

The judges were Miss Mary Louise Bowen of 61 Robinhood street, Auburndale, teacher of the 3rd and 4th grades at the Bowen School; Mrs. George Brewer of 68 Park Lane, Newton Center and Mrs. Edwin Scribner of 15 Bracebridge road, Newton Centre.

The following are the two prize winning essays: First Prize, Browne Scouts—Essay by Joanna Muckenhoupt, 332 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, Troop No. 79.

We should feed them because their homes were bombed, and they couldn't buy food because there weren't any stores. And they couldn't raise food because the farms were bombed and the farm animals were either killed or ran away. Most the fathers were killed and even if they did live they didn't have farm tools.

They need food because if they don't have it they will not grow and their bones won't grow right. We have enough food and can share it easily. The children need food because if they don't they won't grow up strong.

First Prize, Intermediate Scouts—Essay by Mary Patten, 174 Auburn street, Auburndale, Troop No. 48.

The reason we feed the people of Europe is that they have been starving ever since the war began. The people of America are willing to help other people. The people of England are almost starving and yet they have been sending things to other countries of Europe. For that reason every respectable American should have done something to help the people of Europe. There are millions of people starving. If people are starving to death they murder and do anything to keep themselves alive. I hope all the people of America will help to feed the people of Europe.

Will your Child finish School?

The quick impulse will be to say: "Yes, of course." Most parents want to see their children finish school. But many children will not simply because someone forgot about the uncertainties, the things that can happen to anyone. Life insurance can be your guarantee against uncertainties. If you haven't set up this sort of provision to make sure your children have a fair chance to get through school, we would like to show you how to do so at small cost.

Aldermen Vote Shorter Hours For Firemen

The petition of members of the Newton Fire Department for a reduction in their working hours was granted by a unanimous vote of the Newton Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night.

Shortly after the Board convened at 8 p. m., a recess was called and the plan was discussed at a session of the committee as a whole with Fireman Joseph P. Murphy, chairman of the committee in charge of the petition for the Ten Group Plan, present.

The plan will become effective when the necessary funds are available for the appointment of additional firemen, which action must await the recommendation of the mayor.

The Ten Group plan reduces the length of duty for the members of the Fire Department to 67 hours and 12 minutes a week instead of the 84 hours which they now work. It is understood that the action of the Board in granting the Ten Group plan will result in the withdrawal of the petition for a referendum on the acceptance of a 48 hour week. The necessary signatures to place the question on the ballot had already been filed.

The Board authorized construction of a $200,000 addition to the Technical High School Building on Elm road, Newtonville to provide quarters for the automobile shop and other units of the Newton Trade School. The Trade School which is now located in a garage on Bailey place, Newtonville, has been notified that it must give up its present quarters which have been rented to a private concern.

The new building would be of two story construction, 100 ft. x 79 ft., and would be added to the wing on the athletic field side of the Technical High School. The estimated cost would be $195,000.

A recommendation was received from Mayor Paul M. Goddard at the meeting on Monday night that the sum of $4,800 be appropriated for the plans for the new building. The architect will be Albert M. Kreider.

The Board also appropriated the sum of $5,000 for alterations to the City Infirmary.

Hearings were held on several street construction projects as follows:

Falmouth road, from Parmenter road to Ellsworth road, West Newton, with cement curbing.

Myrtle street, from Washington street to Temple street, West Newton, with cement curbing.

Williams street, from Oak street to Charles River, Newton Upper Falls, with cement curbing.

Frances street from Elliot street to Margaret road, Newton Highlands, with cement curbing.

Hearings were also held on the following sewer construction projects:

Ledgewood road, from private land northeasterly, Ward 5.

Dedham street, from Walnut street, northeasterly, Ward 5.

Private land, from Dedham street to Ledgewood road, Ward 5.

The Board also held hearings on the following permits for garages, gasoline storage and similar projects:

Florence E. Person, for a permit to conduct and maintain a Gasoline Selling Station at 981 Watertown street, Ward 3, and to keep, store and sell gasoline in connection therewith; maximum quantity, 2500 gallons, stored in 3 underground tanks with pumps.

Community Service Station, Inc., for permit to install 2 additional underground tanks, with pumps, at 79 Needham street, Ward 5; to increase storage of fuel oil from 30,000 to 70,000 gallons; and to keep, store and sell fuel oil in connection with Gasoline Selling station. This petition was granted.

Frank Antonucci, for permit to erect a 1-car Garage Lubratorium and 1-car Wash Room at 387 Boylston street, Ward 9, in connection with Gasoline Selling Station. The board voted to grant this petition.

Alice M. McDonald, for permit to conduct and maintain an Auto Repair Shop, 3 car capacity, at 50 Farwell street, Ward 2. The petition was granted.

Newton Cemetery Corporation, for permit to install 2 underground tanks, and 1 pump, at 1121 Beacon street, Ward 5, and to keep, store and use gasoline and fuel oil; maximum quantity of gasoline, 500 gallons, fuel oil 2000 gallons, for private use. Action of the petition was deferred.

In the absence of President Joseph B. Jamieson, Wendell R. Bauckman, vice-president of the Board presided at Monday night's session which was of record length ending at 2:15 a. m.

The hormone most commonly known for weed eradication is 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid or better known as 2,4-D. The action of this material has on the wide leaved or many leaved plants is to stimulate its growth until it fairly bursts its seams with growth. This is non-poisonous to humans or pets and is really applied in liquid form. It has no effect on crab grass or any common grasses but has been known to injure creeping weeds. ## NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Recently we had a fire which was caused really by the lack of reasonable judgment. Had a little thought been exercised at the time, the fire that resulted and caused considerable damage would never have occurred.

In checking the records there have been several other fires from the exact same origin ending with large losses. It is therefore timely that their cause and prevention should be given public attention.

The fire started in this manner. Someone during the evening, while smoking, evidently dropped hot ashes on the upholstery. When it was discovered the cushion was removed and the fire supposedly extinguished by the person of the house. The cushion was then disposed of by placing it out of doors. Instead of seeing that it was placed well away from burnable material in case it should reignite, it was just outside close to the building.

The people of the house retired for the night, presuming that the burnt cushion episode was finished. However, they were awakened in the early morning hours to find the house filled with smoke and flames.

The cushion had smoldered for several hours before it had broken into flame and ignited the house. The fire worked its way up the outside of the house and then inside the roof at the gutter, after which it spread out in all directions.

Kapok and several other upholstery filling materials will sometimes smolder for several hours before bursting into flame. The smoke given off is thick and causes heavy coughing after it is inhaled. In order to be sure that the cushion or mattress is out they must sometimes be taken all apart and well soaked in water.

If you should have a similar instance occur at your home and you discover it while it is just starting, take the cushion out of doors away from all other burnable materials, if it is possible to do so, and extinguish it there. Leave it out there where it cannot ignite any other materials. If you cannot do this or there is any doubt in your mind as to whether all of the fire is out, call the Newton Fire Department, BIG 0030 at once and explain the situation. We can then take steps to check it if necessary.

In each of the cases at the start it appeared like a small matter but ended up in a loss of several thousand dollars, all of which could really have been avoided by simply removing the cushion or mattress far enough away from the building or calling the Fire Department at that time.

The Newton Fire Department is established not only to extinguish fires but to help prevent fire in the homes and places of business. Let us all become Fire Prevention conscious now and do our part wherever we are every day. By all working together, we can make Newton a safer place to live and work in now.

Weeds in Your Lawn

By O. O. CLAPPER

The interest shown by our readers to the several spring lawn care articles prompts us to add several timely additions.

Much snow being drizzle and said about the modern laborless methods of removing weeds from lawns and without damage to the permanent grasses.

These can be roughly divided into two classes. The arsenicals and the hormones.

The arsenicals, whether these be sodium arsenite or arsenic acid were first to appear on the market. These kill weeds and wide blade annual grasses, such as crab grass, by a burning process or perhaps better called defoliation. Perennials such as dandelions, plantain, etc., are knocked back but will revive, but seldom will survive, three or four treatments if applied at not too long intervals. Crabgrass and chickweed as well as many other undesirable plants are killed with one application. As there are so many factors entering into the proper application of these materials it is hardly worth the individual's time to go through the learning process, unless he has large areas to be treated. It is better to employ the services of some landscaper who is experienced and has proper application equipment.

The hormone most commonly known for weed eradication is 2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid or better known as 2,4-D. The action of this material has on the wide leaved or many leaved plants is to stimulate its growth until it fairly bursts its seams with growth. This is non-poisonous to humans or pets and is really applied in liquid form. It has no effect on crab grass or any common grasses but has been known to injure creeping weeds. It is being supplied by many manufacturers and in varying strengths from 16% to 80% so one must follow the producers recommendations.

It must naturally follow that when weeds are removed that voids or bare spots will appear. These are but seed beds for more weeds unless seeded with grass seed you will have another weeding on your hands. Unless you wish bigger, better and more weeds you had better seed within a few days after the weeds have been killed off.

No doubt you have at times felt that the grass seed you purchased was responsible for the new crop of weeds. This can hardly be true unless you purchased pasture seed or hay mow sweepings for the reason that the ripening season of common lawn weeds does not coincide with those of lawn grasses. Usually they blow in, are carried by birds, or on the shoes of children from the vacant lot not too far away. Another source is loam. Field loam so often used in the spring is loaded with weed seed. A good proof of this is to take a sample and keep it indoors and well watered to determine the germination of the weeds. You will really be surprised at the results.

The best way to keep weeds out of the lawn is to seed the thin areas each spring and fall and more important to properly fertilize twice per year. Healthy grass will crowd weeds before they grow strong.

FREEDOM! to Fend for Herself . . .

WILL YOU GIVE THAT THEY MAY LIVE?

THE Emergency Food Collection on behalf of UNRRA gives each of us the privilege of contributing money, food in tin cans, or both, to the people of starving and war-mangled countries.

It is a privilege, and from a common-sense viewpoint it is imperative. Those who somehow survive a long period of starvation become warped, not only in body.

The old will die, mercifully for them; but the young will struggle to live, filling their bloated stomachs with grass, roots, garbage, anything . . .

If we feed those who now starve we may well be protecting our own children and grandchildren from the burning bomb, the shattering guns, the slow or sudden death.

Centuries ago it was ordered by a compassion that knew neither race, creed, or color, "Feed my lambs." Can we afford to ignore this plea, know we are all children of God?

Give in His name—in the name of all humanity!

WHAT YOU CAN DO!

1. Take to the nearest school or fire station tin cans of food such as Milk, Meat, Fish, Peanut Butter, Baby Foods, Baked Beans, Stews, Soups, Fruit Juices and Vegetables

OR

2. Make a contribution of money with which to buy food, make checks payable to Warren W. Oliver, Treas. Newton UNRRA.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Co. Shows Increase in Policies

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, according to an announcement recently made by its president, Jay R. Benton, is substantially bettering the outstanding record it made in 1945. New insurance issued during the first four months of this year was more than 42% greater than the amount issued during the same period of last year. The Ordinary Department had an increase of over 81% in insurance issued in the New England area. Continuation of the same rate of growth for the balance of the year will result in the largest increase of any year in the company's history.

Total insurance in force as of May 1st was over $142,000,000, representing a gain of more than $5,000,000 since January 1st, 1946. The company's investment in United States Government bonds exceeds $20,000,000 which is 80% of its total investments.

Since organization the company has paid to policyholders and beneficiaries over $43,000,000. It now has one policy in force for every 17 people living in the territory in which it operates.

The Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, now in its fifty-fifth year, has welcomed back many employees from the armed forces and has also enlarged its organization to serve the thousands of new policyholders in the New England area.

A pro-burial mass was celebrated in the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre on Monday morning for Lt. Francis X. Glacken, USAAF, husband of Dorothy A. (Marple) Glacken of 1590 Centre street, Newton Highlands.

Lt. Glacken was reported as missing in action over Tokyo, May 24, 1945 and has now been officially declared dead.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glacken of Cambridge.

General of Massachusetts, widely known in life insurance and business circles, is also active in civic affairs and is chairman of the Greater Boston Development Committee.

Dr. Eddy-

A member of the famous Yale Missionary Band, after his ordination to the Congregational ministry in 1905, Dr. Eddy took a pastorate in East Orange, New Jersey, for three years and then came to the American Board where he served until his retirement two years ago.

During World War I, Dr. Eddy served with the YMCA in France and with the British Ministry of Information. He then began his personal contacts with international problems studying particularly industrial situations around the world first in Japan and China, and later in Hawaii. He spent seven solid months on a world tour investigating political and international hot spots in 1934 and 1935, and again in 1937 in Europe. Dr. Eddy's last visit to Russia came when that country was passing through the famous "blood purge." On this same journey he addressed huge audiences in China.

Dr. Eddy leaves his widow, Mrs. Josephine Russell Eddy of Newtonville, Mass.; three sons and two daughters: George A. Eddy of Washington, D. C.; C. Russell Eddy of Duxbury, Mass.; David B. Eddy, Jr., of Newtonville, Mass.; Miss Frances Eddy, now with the USO in Hawaii; and Mrs. Joseph Thompson of Suffield, Conn. He also leaves eight grandchildren and a brother, Dr. Sherwood Eddy of New York, N. Y.

Dr. Eddy was a member of the Boston City Club, the Yale Club of Boston, and President of the Eddy Family Association, whose genealogy fittingly describes Dr. Eddy as "western born, eastern educated and world traveled, he has invested his life in terms of international goodwill." He was a member of Central Congregational Church of Newtonville, Mass., where funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, June 3rd.

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 3, 1946

Until all responsible government heads are made to realize that the measure of a nation's true greatness is the spiritual stature of its people, rather than its physical resources, there can be no end to the conflict between materially mental forces that precipitated World War II. The Christian Science Board of Directors told the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, today.

The time has come, the Directors affirmed, when representatives of all social and religious systems are being called upon to give something more convincing than promises, preachment, and paganistic pageantries to sustain the faith of their fellows, and to provide for a lasting peace.

If these systems are to survive, declared the official spokesmen of the world-embracing Christian Science movement, they must "furnish proof that the ideals for which they stand can be made of practical use in advancing the cultural, economic and spiritual welfare of the race."

This statement from the Directors was given before thousands of Christian Scientists attending the first peacetime Annual Meeting in five years, many of whom came from countries long shut out from the world by war. They brought with them vital lessons from the troubled years just passed to emphasize the Directors' contention that "the supreme duty of statesmen and churchmen at this crucial hour is to use every means at their command to prevent another world conflict and to bind up the unhealed wounds left by the last one."

"This is no time for them to resort either to subterfuge or aggression as a means of extending the political influence of any church or state," the statement said.

Plans to document the records of Christian Science wartime activities of the last conflict in a book to be published early in 1947 were disclosed by the Trustees. The vast scope of these activities was covered in another report, showing that 135 paid Wartime Ministers, 26 Chaplains and 495 volunteer Wartime Workers were engaged at the peak of war activities in Canada and the United States alone.

Announcement of the appointment of Luther Phillips Cudworth, C. S. B., of Boston, as President of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, was made by The Christian Science Board of Directors.

Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Co. Commissioner, Speaks at Kiwanis

Hon. Edwin O. Childs, now Middlesex County Commissioner, after serving the people of Newton, as mayor, for 23 years, told members of the Newton Kiwanis Club, Wednesday noon, of the manner in which Middlesex County Government operates.

Commissioner Childs, or "Ned," as he is known to young and old in this city, was born in Newton, and has been a life-long resident of his beloved Garden City. After graduating from Harvard College and Harvard Law School, he opened a law office in Newton which he still maintains. At that time, too, he became interested in the Monantum Boy's Club, in the "Lake" section of Newton. An interest, incidentally, that he has continued throughout the years.

Elected Mayor of Newton in 1913, Mr. Childs was re-elected repeatedly, serving continuously as Mayor, from 1914 until 1932, a period of 18 years. Voluntarily withdrawing from the political arena for a time, he threw his hat in the ring again in 1937, and elected, served four years more, (1938-1942). He resides in the home he built in Monantum shortly after his first term as Mayor of Newton.

Talking on the subject of Counties, he stated that the County form of government originated in France, and was ruled by a Count-hence, in this county, the title County. There are 3,000 counties in the United States, he continued, with Middlesex County having a count of 54 cities and 43 towns. And, he said, a county politician, aspiring for a political office, needs to contact 600,000 votes.

Middlesex County's finances are in excellent condition, Mr. Childs concluded. It's the largest rural-city County in the State. Contains 844 square miles and leads in art and music. The County also maintains the Tuberculosis Hospital, in Waltham, Newton paying $261,000 in taxes as it's share toward County expenses.

Whitney and Whitney Open Realty Office in Newton

It will be modeled after their home office in Brookline and staffed with competent sales people to handle all real estate activities as well as mortgages and insurance of all kinds.

Mr. Donald Whitney will devote a part of each day at the new office to consult with clients.

Hospital—

of trustees, Hon. Paul M. Goddard, Mayor of Newton, Egon E. Kattwinkel, M.D., chairman of the doctors' advisory committee of the fund, Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall, chairman of the memorial gifts committee, Paul T. Babson, a vice-president of the hospital and general chairman for Wellesley of the fund campaign, Maynard Hutchinson, a director of the hospital, and Thomas E. Shirley, a co-chairman of the public campaign.

Reporting for the memorial gifts committee, Mrs. Endicott P. Saltonstall announced 479 subscriptions amounting to $892,218. A report of the committee on corporation subscriptions, as made by Herbert T. Pillsbury, showed contributions of $51,331 received up to this point from industrial concerns.

Other subscriptions included in the total received since the beginning of the building fund project last summer were announced by Mr. Whidden as: $100,000 from the Wellesley Hospital Fund, a goal of $90,000 assumed by the doctors of the hospital's staff, and subscriptions amounting to $24,000 undertaken by the Nurses' Alumnae Association. It was at this point that Mr. Whidden announced $1,157,549 as the total of the fund to date.

Mr. Walker welcomed the volunteer workers and said he brought greetings "from your hospital. No government, national, state or local," he said, "built the hospital or maintains it. Newton-Wellesley Hospital was organized many years ago by a group of Newton citizens as a charitable organization."

The hospital president paid tribute to the Community Chest, which, he said, provides funds to enable the hospital "to give free care to those who need such care," and to the Red Cross for its work in training volunteers for war-time service in the hospital.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Walker said: "In this greatest effort ever asked of Newton citizens, may we remember that not only does our community prosper but our own lives are enriched as we give our help and energy to those who suffer."

Mayor Goddard said that the attendance gave answer to the question of how many Newtons there are. "Here tonight are representatives from all the Newtons," the Mayor said, "proving that there is just one Newton."

As spokesmen for members of the medical and surgical staffs of the hospital, Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel, chairman of the doctors' advisory committee, told the campaign workers that he and his colleagues have long been disturbed at overcrowded conditions at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

In giving her report, Mrs. Saltonstall paid tribute to the intensive work done by all members of the memorial gifts committee. To the volunteer workers she said: "Remember, that if a thing is worth doing, it's worth doing well. I'm confident that you're going to get this money. There's no question about it."

Mr. Pillsbury, in reporting for the committee on corporation subscriptions, said that while

Memorial Day Parade passes reviewing stand at City Hall

Newton is not a prominent industrial community, a generous and far-sighted response to the fund had been made by industrial leaders. He promised that the committee will continue to work until the close of the campaign.

Mrs. Worthing L. West, speaking for Mrs. F. Marsena Butts, co-chairman of the public campaign, said the campaign presented two challenges—one to all citizens to provide themselves with the hospital facilities they need, and the other to the men's teams to keep their average of subscriptions as high as that maintained by the women's teams.

Mr. Shirley accepted both challenges, and in a word of advice to the workers said that "if you carry the story of the need for greater hospital facilities to the people of Newton, we'll get the money."

In introducing Paul T. Babson, general chairman of the campaign for Wellesley, Mr. Leonard called attention to the fact that Wellesley, in its enthusiasm for the campaign, had enlisted 559 workers where 240 originally were sought.

Mr. Babson said that of $500,000 which the townspeople had set as their goal approximately $300,000 already is assured, and that the balance will be sought in the public campaign now in progress there. "Our town has a population of 17,000, and we have over 500 workers who are going to cover the community thoroughly," Mr. Babson said.

Mr. Hutchinson began his remarks by saying that 60 years ago on the fourth of June Newton and its citizens were on the eve of a great event as the first inspection of the Newton Cottage Hospital was about to be held. "Tonight," he continued, "we stand on the eve of another great event, one of the greatest Newton has ever seen." He warned his listeners that "unless we do our part in providing a greater hospital we are accentuating the serious conditions which now are overwhelming Boston hospitals."

In the proposed expansion of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the principal feature of construction will be a seven-story Y-shaped addition to the main building which will increase the present capacity from 260 to 428 beds for adults and babies. Other changes will include the building of two additional floors above the Nurses' Home as a means of enlarging the School of Nursing, the conversion of Founders' Memorial into a modern out-patient department and diagnostic center, and the addition of one floor to the service wing of the main building for the creation of a central sterile supply and for the installation of air conditioning equipment to cool the operating rooms below.

Col. Otis M. Whitney Called Veterans' Candidate

Recognized as the veterans candidate, as well as the choice of Republicans and independent Democrats, Col. Otis M. Whitney of Concord, present Governor's Councilor from the 3rd Councilor District has practically received an unanimous endorsement of the men and women voters of his district.

These mothers and fathers, as well as the veterans themselves, remember Councilor Whitney, who served 5 years in the armed forces, 2 years in the South Pacific, and who was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action during the Guadalcanal fighting.

Colonel Whitney in his modest manner, is not asking support on his gallant war record, but his supporters, including those many women's organizations and civic leagues in his district, point to his excellent record as a member of the Massachusetts Legislature, and his present office as the Governor's Councilor of the 3rd Massachusetts District.

Among the vast number of veterans who are actively supporting Colonel Whitney are:

First United Presbyterian Church Buys Channing Church Property

The sale on June 3, 1946 of the Channing Church and the land on which it stands at Park, Eldredge and Vernon streets in Newton has been announced by the chairman of the Standing Committee of the Channing Religious Society, Miss Margaret S. Ball. The last service was held on Christmas Sunday, 1945; soon after which many members became affiliated with the First Unitarian Society in Newton, in West Newton, of which the Rev. Herbert Hitchen, D.D., is minister.

The new owner of Channing Church is the First United Presbyterian Church in Boston, which is already occupying it.

Military Mass at Sacred Heart Parish

The Holy Name Society of the Sacred Heart Parish, Newton Centre, will attend a Military Mass at 8:30 a. m., Sunday, June 9th, at the Sacred Heart Church.

Following the Mass, a buffet breakfast will be served in the parochial school hall, and the principal speaker at the exercises to be conducted in the hall will be the Rev. Father Joseph C. Monahan, former chaplain in the U. S. Army serving in the Pacific area. Before entering the service,

Father Monahan was the Assistant Procurator at St. John's Seminary, and since his discharge has been appointed by His Excellency, Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, as the Executive Secretary of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine which is now being organized in the Archdiocese of Boston.

Col. R. J. Hevessey, Chairman of the Military Committee of the Holy Name Society, is in complete charge of the arrangements for the Military Mass, at which every member of the Holy Name Society will receive Holy Communion.

All veterans will attend in uniform, and will meet directly in front of the parochial school hall from whence they will march into the Church.

Cleo Jalliet, Chairman of the Program Committee, is in charge of the buffet breakfast.

Mass will be celebrated by Rt. Rev. Eric F. McKenzie, Pastor of the Sacred Heart Church.

Assisting Col. Hevessey will be the Officers of the Holy Name Society, under the leadership of William D. Moran, President.

This Military Mass and Communion will be offered by all present; first, in memory of the fifteen men of the Parish who made the supreme sacrifice; and, secondly, in thanksgiving for the safe return of over one thousand men of the Parish who served in the armed forces throughout the world.

Speaking of the physically handicapped veterans, Congressman Michener of Michigan said: "They are not looking for something for nothing. They are only asking for genuine Christian consideration and for an opportunity to use their talents for their own benefit and for the benefit of society."

The highlights of this Court of Honor were the presentation of six Eagle Scout Badges and three Quartermaster Badges to Scouts from Norumbega Council.

Mr. William V. M. Fawcett, Chairman of the National Committee on Senior Scouting, announced to the Court Friday evening that Sea Scout Ship 13 of Norumbega Council has attained National Flotilla Rating for the year 1945-1946.

Mr. James C. Walton, President of Norumbega Council awarded the Eagle Scout Badges in an impressive ceremony which the parents and Scoutmasters of the Eagle Scout Candidates took part in on the stage. The Sea Scout Commodore, Alan MacIntire, honored the Racing Crew from Sea Scout Ship 13 for winning the boat races in Boston Harbor on Maritime Day, May 19. Commodore MacIntire spoke briefly, saying that this Crew exemplified the fine spirit and teamwork that goes to make up Norumbega Council.

Demonstration of New Flour at Red Cross

A demonstration on the use of the new flour now on the market is to be given on Wednesday, June 12, at 2:00 o'clock in the kitchen of the Newton Red Cross Chapter House, 21 Foster street, Newtonville, by Mrs. Virginia Sargent, Newton Nutritionist.

All Newton housewives are invited to attend this demonstration, which is but one of the many ways by which the Newton Red Cross Nutrition Committee attempts to help the homemaker in coping with post-war food problems.

F. B. Kennedy, President Elect of Norumbega Council, was the presiding officer at this Court of Honor, and the awards were made by the following men: Samuel Parker Aliston, Dr. Richard Thornton, Edward Michaud, Harold Amidon, George Shannon, Raymond Leonard, William V. M. Fawcett, James C. Walton, Commodore Alan MacIntire, Vice-Commodore Asa Blakeslee, and Scout Executive Robert E. Pettit conducted a most impressive opening ceremony and closed the Court with the Scoutmaster's Benediction.

The Marshal for the Court of Honor was John B. Starkweather, Scoutmaster of Troop 15, Auburn-dale, who was assisted by Daniel Gauthier, Mate of Ship 12, and Donald Fifield, Scoutmaster of Troop 7A. The aides for this Court of Honor were Sea Scouts from the Ships in Norumbega Council. The Secretary of the Court was Field Executive John C. Adams.

Scout Water Carnival June 8

Entries are coming in far above expectations from all of the Scout Troops in the Newton and Wellesley sections of Norumbega Council for the 2nd annual Water Carnival at Morse's Pond in Wellesley on Saturday, June 8th at 1:30 p.m. Whereas last year some seventy-five Scouts participated with at least 200 spectators — this year Edward Michaud of Waban, who is heading up the Council Committee sponsoring this Carnival, anticipates an entry of over 150 and a spectator interest which should total close to a thousand.

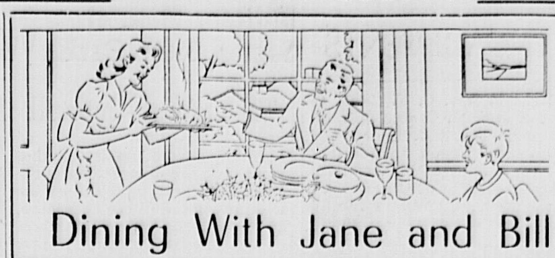

The contest last year was extremely intense between Troop 22, 7-W, 15 and 10 more-or-less in that order. However, F. C. "Bill" Williams, Scoutmaster of 7-W Wellesley, informs us his boys have every intention of walking off with top-place honors this year in spite of George Larson's success with his Troop 22 boys a year ago. Jack Starkweather's Troop 15, has an excellent chance also and he promises plenty of surprises in the performance of his group. And, anyone who knows anything about Ed Michaud's Troop 10 boys, know that they are a determined and spirited bunch of fellows — and anyone competing against them will have to do some superior swimming to capture the blue ribbons from them! Doubtless other Troops have similar ideas and so it is expected there will be some very stiff and exciting competition.

Among those dominating the Water Carnival last June were: Howard Holmes, Pete Lowell, Dick O'Neil, Bill Moore, Ken Cyphers, L. Miller, Norman Sanders, George Ryan, Ken Sullivan and Roy Fogelgren, who were all blue ribbon winners, and it is hoped many of these lads will defend their swimming titles as they line up again this June for another test of their water speed and aquatic skills! Fred Eastman, Jr., will be on hand to head up a group of eight "life guards". It will be remembered that he was for six years a life guard at Crystal Lake; has been a Red Cross Instructor, served in the Navy during the war ending up as an Ensign, and is now associated with Arthur D. Little Co. as a Chemical Engineer. Every precaution is being taken to care for the safety of the boys throughout the scheduled events of the Carnival. It will be the responsibility of Fred Eastman, Jr., to stop the swimming of any boy he believes not to be in proper physical condition to compete or complete any event.

There will be a big interest in the canoe events. Page Sanderson has secured six canoes from George Monahan of South Natick — and when manned by two boys each it should be an exciting and colorful "free-for-all" as they splash out over the 125 yard course for first place honors. This is the first year that either canoeing or diving has been a part of the program. In addition to the canoe races there will be a canoe tilting and a Hurry-Scurry Race — all in plain view of Morse's Pond. Thomas A. Fearnside and Bob Conger, both of Wellesley, will be on hand to assist in the judging.

Jim Reynolds will direct the diving events. Boys planning to take part in any event are expected to register their names at Scout Headquarters in Newtonville before June 1st. At this time they will be given a number which they will be asked to remember and use in any race in which they may be a contestant. The number will be given to them as they weigh in just before the start of the Carnival at 1:30 p.m. Scouts over 14 years of age or 125 pounds in weight will compete in the Senior events. All other Scouts will take part in the Junior events. It is planned that the Wellesley Unit of the Red Cross will set up a Mobile Station at the pond for emergency use — and that Major Strauss, now stationed at the Cushing General Hospital in Framingham, will be on hand.

The committee announced that George Shannon, Chairman of Cubbing for the Council, would handle the microphone and in addition to calling up events, would give the spectators a running story of each race and announce the winners of each event. Boys will be urged to wear sweaters till their event is called to prevent undue sunburn or chill. Henry D. White, Scoutmaster of Troop 82, Wellesley, has been selected as the General Water Carnival Recorder. Those motoring to Morse's pond will find signs along the Junior—Dad, listen to this problem we had in arithmetic. If each person in a family saved one teaspoon of fat per day, how many pounds of fat could 200 families (4 in average-sized family) save in one month (30 days)? Three teaspoons equal one tablespoon; 32 tablespoons equal one pound.

Bill—Well, how did you come out? Did you get the answer? Junior—Yes, I think I'm right. It's 250 pounds. Gosh, isn't that a lot? Just think how many pounds could be saved in this city in a month! Whee!

Bill (to Jane)—Sounds like a good practical question that Junior's got there. His teacher is certainly adapting arithmetic to current problems.

Jane's tips for saving fat:

1. Fewer fried foods.
2. Less pastry.
3. Render any extra fat on meats.
4. Save all cooking fats from bacon, etc.
5. Use boiled salad dressings instead of mayonnaise.

Bill—Reminds me of:

"Little drops of water,
Little grains of sand,
Make the mighty ocean,
And the pleasant lands."

Newton Taxpayers' Ass'n Re-established

The Newton Taxpayers Association, dormant during the war years, has been reestablished as an active organization in the City, according to the announcement of Wendell R. K. Mick, president.

In a letter to the 2000 members, president Mick explained: "Since the end of the war the Directors of the Association have been actively preparing to resume this work. They have selected Bruce Smith, trained for Taxpayer work by the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Associations, as Executive Secretary. Office space has been secured at 302 Walnut street, Newtonville". The Association Directors now look to the membership for support.

"The Association proposes to act as a service agency to the Taxpayer and his government. It will study and make available to its membership through bulletins the results of its studies; the functions of City, County, and State governments. Thus the Association will be a research agency for the citizen, presenting to him the facts, upon which he may base his judgment of municipal affairs in an understandable form. The subject matter of such research will not be of the academic sort, but will be practical in approach, and democratically responsive in scope to the will of the membership. Thus through cooperation with governmental officials, this Association will continue to promote efficiency and economy in government. The Directors believe that through the Association, tax bills can be kept at a reasonable amount."

The Officers and Directors are: Officers, Wendell R. K. Mick, president, Newton Centre; Marshall B. Dalton, vice president, West Newton; Roland F. Gammons, treasurer, West Newton; Herbert N. McGill, clerk, Auburndale.

Directors, George L. White, Newton; Archibald G. Barron, West Newton; Rupert Thompson, Newtonville; Maurice W. Dennison, Newton; Frank H. Underhill, Newton Centre; Henry T. Dunker, Waban; William M.

Zonta Club

The Zonta Club of Newton held the last meeting of the year Monday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Mildred Roys, West Newton. Interest focused on the coming convention of Zonta International at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, June 13-15, when several hundred delegates arriving by chartered plane and bus, car, train and steamship from Canada, Hawaii and many cities of the U. S. will meet to discover ways of making women's influence more effectively felt in local and world governments.

An interesting array of outstanding speakers is scheduled to appear on the program. An authority on juvenile problems, Miss Ethel Alpenfels, anthropologist on leave from the University of Chicago and now with the Bureau of International Education, will be one of the speakers. Miss Alpenfels appeared last February on the Town-Meeting of the Air with Columnist Dorothy Thompson, Boys' Town Father Flanagan and U. S. Attorney Tom Clark before an estimated audience of ten million, in discussing the subject, "Who is to Blame for Juvenile Crime?"

Another eminent woman to appear on the program is Senatoria Minerva Bernadino, chairman of the Inter-American Commission of Women, representative from the Dominican Republic to Mexico City and San Francisco last year, delegate to UNO and indefatigable worker for many years for the rights of women everywhere. John J. McGuire, the only man to appear on the program, is an inspector for the FBI, assigned to FBI headquarters in Washington.

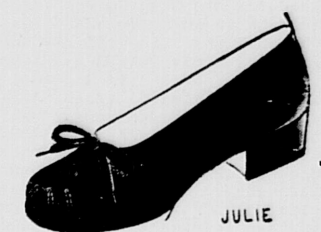

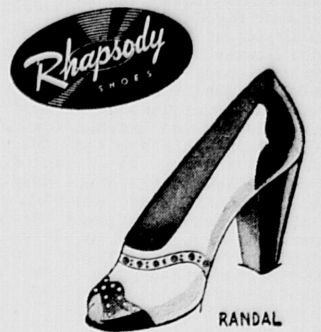

Mrs. Ruth Kelso Renfrow, of St. Louis, Missouri, and Miss Margaret Slattery of Malden, Massachusetts who will also appear on the program are both members of Zonta International. Mrs. Renfrow has been an authority and outstanding speaker for the past twenty years on international affairs relating to women. Miss Slattery has spoken to hundreds of thousands of young people and adults during the past twenty-five years on the age-old staples of human life in their relation to religion, as applied to our new-day needs and problems.

Other interesting features of the convention will be reports of International Committees, panel discussions on subjects of vital interest and election of officers for the coming year. The International President, Miss Jessie Elkins, of St. Catherine, Ontario, Canada will preside. Henry Cabot Lodge will give the address of welcome and Governor and Mrs. Tobin and the mayor of Boston will be honor guests at the banquet on Saturday evening.

Back to basic training—for good!

BASIC TRAINING IN THE ARMY WAS NEVER LIKE THIS.

Yet this quiet exercising of a boy's eager mind and muscles . . . is basic training, too, for Son — and Dad.

It teaches the youngster self-respect. Persistence. And pride in a job well done.

And Dad? Maybe he's fresh from bleak barracks or broken battlefield . . . home now to savor anew the treasured warmth, the cherished intimacy, of a home that is secure.

Perhaps it re-introduces him, too . . . to a sense of his responsibility for his loved ones' security.

That's why it is vital that the veteran hold on to his Government life insurance! It helps build freedom from want for his family. It's a dike against need. And now is the time to reinforce that dike with additional life insurance . . . assuring his family a steady income over those years when they might otherwise be helpless without it.

When you think about increasing your insurance . . . think of Boston Mutual, always eager to help you in any way we can. For 55 years we have helped families build toward that serene future that only financial security can bring.

You'll always find it worthwhile to look up your Boston Mutual representative. With his "basic training" in insurance and his accumulated years of experience . . . he will prove a true friend indeed!

Robert Brightman Receives Scholarship Award

Robert Sheffield Brightman, 17, Newton High School senior and a member of the local school Chapter of the National Honor Society, has received an Award in a national scholarship competition held by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Washington, D. C., it was announced today by Raymond Green, Principal. This Award designates the recipient as an alternate for a $300 scholarship and was won in a competition of 5,201 selected high-ranking students—all senior members of the National Honor Society—in 1,274 high schools throughout the nation. The 105 highest ranking students throughout the nation were given National Honor Society Scholarships, Awards, and Certificates of Merit.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Brightman, 42 Braeland avenue, Newton Centre. He plans to enter Swarthmore College in September. At Newton High he was President of the Microphone Club, a Home Room Representative to the Legislature, a member of the "Orange Book" staff, a member of the "Newtonian" staff, a member of the Math Club, in the cast of the senior play, and ranked scholastically in the upper tenth of the senior class.

Ten scholarship winners and fifteen awards were announced today by the Scholarship Board, all selected through a high rating attained in a General Aptitude Test taken on April 3 and the school and community record.

W. A. Feinberg Library Dedicated

More than 100 members of the congregation of Temple Emanuel, Ward street, Newton Centre, took part in a dedication of the William A. Feinberg Library on Sunday evening at a meeting sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association.

Rabbi Samuel N. Sherman conducted the memorial service, and Alexander Brin, editor of the Jewish Advocate Publishing Company, made the dedication speech. In presenting his personal gift of a set of books to the library, Mr. Brin commended the spirit of the sponsors of the library for establishing a center in the community for books on religious education.

The service was preceded by a supper, under the direction of Nathan Rosenthal. A musical program was presented by Mrs. Simeon Allen.

Philip Adam was re-elected president of the association. Other officers include Aaron

B.C.'s Cardinal O'Connell Hall To Be Filmed for Movies

Cardinal O'Connell Hall at Boston College, formerly the Liggett Estate, will be used by 20th Century Fox for the filming of several scenes for the forthcoming movie "13 Rue Madeleine," college authorities, disclosed yesterday.

James Cagney and Annabella will play the leading roles in the full length documentary picture depicting the activities of the Office of State Service. A major part of the entire film will be made in the Greater Boston area during the summer months.

The Tudor building and surrounding grounds at B. C. were selected by directors Henry Hathaway and Otto Lang on a recent visit to University Heights. The architectural beauty of the main structure, and its picturesque setting bear a close similarity to the description of an English country club prominent in the script.

Other members of the cast include Walter Abel, Nick Conti, and Frank Latimore.

The same company produced the "Song of Bernadette," and the "House on 92d Street," a picture with a similar background heralded as one of 1945's best films. Louis DeRochemont and John Monks, Jr., producer and author of "The House on 92d Street," again have collaborated for "13 Rue Madeleine."

Cardinal O'Connell Hall now houses the School of Business Administration. The beautiful estate on Hammond st., adjacent to the college campus, was given to Boston College by the late Cardinal in 1941. The main building formerly known as Gwydyr Hall, is a reproduction of an English manor. The spacious grounds with flowered terraces, green foliage and rock gardens make it one of Newton's beauty spots.

Bronstein, vice-president; Mrs. Arthur Falkson, recording secretary; Mrs. Nathan Levin, corresponding secretary; Nathan Rosenthal, treasurer; and Mrs. Aaron Bronstein, auditor.

A presentation of a check for $250 to the library fund was made by Mrs. Meyer Armet on behalf of the Sisterhood of the Temple.

The program included a book review by Mrs. Lillian Ostrows of Gladys Schmitt's book "David the King."

In the fiscal year 1945 more than 90 cents of every dollar spent by the Federal government went to meet the direct costs of the war, according to a statement by Secretary of the Treasury Vinson.

Nation Wide Police Traffic Safety Check Program

To assist in curbing the rapidly rising toll of traffic accident fatalities the police of the United States and Canada will conduct a Traffic Safety Check program from May 15 to July 7. The program is under the sponsorship of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and is receiving the active support of more than 200 corporations and organizations that are interested in highway traffic safety.

While the Police Traffic Safety Check is in progress, police officers will check the brakes, lights, tires, windshield wipers and horns of all automobiles involved in accidents or traffic violations. Drivers whose cars show obvious defects will be admonished to have necessary repairs made immediately.

Under the slogan "Check Your Driving, Check Your Car, Check Accidents," the program will stress safe driving habits along with the necessity for keeping automobiles in top mechanical condition.

The traffic problem is growing increasingly bad, according to police officials. In 1945, 28,500 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents, and nearly 1,000,000 sustained injuries. This was a 17 per cent increase over the previous year.

Statistics available for 1946 indicate even steeper increases than were seen last year. In January, 1946, traffic fatalities were 49 per cent higher than the previous January. February's increase over the preceding year amounted to 45 per cent. And in March, 1946, there were 39 more deaths than in March, 1945.

Traffic deaths for the first three months of 1946 were nearly as high as they were in a like period of 1941, the year when the traffic slaughter reached an all time high.

Robert E. Raleigh, Associate Director of the Safety Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, who is in direct charge of the program says, "Since officers will check only the cars involved in accidents or traffic violations, we can hope to reach only a small proportion of car owners. Therefore we must rely on the voluntary cooperation of the driving public."

"We strongly urge drivers to keep their cars in the best possible mechanical condition. We also urge drivers to seriously practice driving."

"We know that unsafe automobiles are a major traffic hazard. We also know that unsafe and careless driving habits cause accidents that are frequently fatal. And we are sure that a combination of the two—a car in dangerous mechanical condition that is driven by a careless operator—makes a lethal weapon of the automobile."

The Police Traffic Safety Check has been highly commended by President Truman, and a discussion of it is on the agenda for the President's Highway Safety

Officers Elected at Recent Meeting Of the Greater Boston Advisory Board of the Salvation Army

Franklin W. Fessenden—vice-president Bond and Goodman, Inc., was elected to membership on the board.

At this meeting special tribute was paid to the memory of the late former Governor Charles F. Hurley, who for many years a member of the board and a staunch friend of the Salvation Army and its work on behalf of humanity.

Colonel Richard F. Stretton gave an encouraging report of the past year's activities and thanked the board for its great and generous support of the Army's program.

W. A. Nicol, Public Relations Secretary referred briefly to the 1946-1947 Marching Forward Appeal for one million dollars which will run through September 16—October 30th. Part of this million dollar quota will be for the usual maintenance needs of the Army in Greater Boston; part for a new building for the Evangline Booth Home and Hospital; part for national and international projects of the Army which include post-war services of the Red Shield and rehabilitation of the Army's work in war-torn emergency aid to Army and Navy personnel and families; educational and training programs, national prison and police court work and rural extension activities.

Conference on May 8, 9 and 10.

The police program will be launched just two weeks before the long Memorial Day week end, when it is expected that more cars will be on the road than at any time since before the war. The Traffic Safety Check is an elaboration of the 1945 Brake Emphasis program, when police checked nearly two-million cars and found that one out of every seven had faulty brakes.

The members of the Newton Fire department wish to thank Mayor Paul M. Goddard, the Board of Aldermen, Chief John L. Keating and the citizens of Newton who were instrumental in any way in helping us to obtain shorter hours. The main object of our drive was the elimination of the "long day" which we have received.

This will aid in the maintenance of a better spirit and co-operation between the fire department, the city government and the citizens.

We also wish to express our appreciation to any of the newspapers for placing before the public the facts of our case on a fair basis.

Memorial Services Held for Lieut. Simon Surabian

An impressive memorial service was held on Tuesday afternoon, May 28, at the Warren Junior High School in West Newton, for former Lt. Simon Surabian, who passed away at the Cushing General Hospital, Framingham, in July, 1945, after an illness of several months. Lt. Surabian had served for nearly three years in the Administrative Branch of the Medical Division of the United States Army. At the time of his enlistment he was a teacher of mathematics at the Warren Junior High School, where he taught from 1930 to 1942.

The service, conducted by the Warren Junior High School Faculty under the leadership of Paul C. Scarborough, Principal, and Harry E. Johnson, Chairman of the War Effort Committee, was attended by the entire faculty, members of his family and friends of Lt. Surabian from West Boylston, and former members of the Warren faculty. Among the guests from Lt. Surabian's home town were Peter Surabian, a brother, Nora and Mabel Surabian, sisters, Helen Tashjian, a niece, Edward and Robert Tashjian, nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Peltier, the superintendent of schools and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cook, Principal of the Shrewsbury High School and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, a former business partner and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Bray, neighbors. Guests from Newton included Miss Bertha O'Connor, a former art teacher at Warren, and her sister, Miss Jennie O'Connor, Harold Gores, Asst. Superintendent of Newton Schools and former teacher of mathematics at Warren, James Onthank, also a former mathematics teacher, and Gwendolyn Frederickson, a former school secretary.

The service, led by Mr. Johnson, was opened with an invocation by Mr. Gores, in which he expressed the sincere feeling of respect and admiration felt by all those who knew "Si" Surabian. Not all of the present members of the Warren faculty had the privilege of knowing and working with Lt. Surabian, nor perhaps did even his family realize how great a loss the school had sustained in his death. His loyalty, to the school and to his pupils, his desire for far play, his earnestness and enthusiasm in carrying out any job assigned to him, were portrayed most vividly by Carl Penny, teacher of science at Warren, and one of the few teachers who had the privilege of working with "Si" during his entire period of service.

Besides teaching school Lt. Surabian was interested in law and, while teaching, completed a full law course and was admitted, not only to the Massachusetts Bar, but also to the United States Federal Bar and Supreme Court of the United States. Lt. Surabian also served on the School Committee in West Boylston.

That the army recognized his fine qualities was exemplified in his rapid promotions from buck private to First Lieutenant. Throughout his service in the armed force he worked as he had always worked, with little thought of himself but always of what could be done to help others. As Mr. Penny expressed it, Lt. Surabian was known to all, young and old, fellow worker or friend, as just "Si," and even among his pupils, though never to his face, he was always referred to as "Si," the friend to all.

Mr. Johnson read a part of the American Legion memorial service and also a letter from Russell V. Burkhard, Principal of the Day Junior High School in Newtonville, extending his sympathy and honoring "Si's" service and affiliation with the Newton schools. This was followed by a moment of silent tribute to his memory.

Mr. Scarborough presented the school's honor pin to Robert Tashjian, with the request that he present it to Lt. Surabian's mother who was unable to attend the service. He also announced the establishment of the Lt. Simon Surabian Memorial Award which will be made each year to a boy and a girl who are outstanding in character, scholarship, athletics, leadership and service. Each year a bronze medal with ribbon will be awarded to the pupils receiving the award and their names will be engraved on a plaque which will be designated as the Lt. Simon Surabian Memorial Plaque. The members of the committee who are to formulate, recommend, and carry out the terms of the award are Mary J. Cleveland, Assistant Principal, who will serve as Chairman, E. Warren Blue, Carl M. Penny, Marion G. Wheeler, and Alice C. Willey.

Mr. Scarborough unveiled the honor roll of the Warren Junior High School faculty bearing the names of its members who served in the armed forces, with a picture of Lt. Surabian beneath it. The names inscribed on the honor roll are: James F. Onthank, Herbert O. Berry, Everett C. Converse, Albert R. Studer, Helen M. Russo, and in Honored Memory, Simon Surabian.

The faculty service flag, which had previously borne six blue stars, was then lowered with one gold star replacing a blue star. The service was closed with a benediction by Mr. Johnson.

After refreshments had been served by the Home Economics Department, the family and friends of Lt. Surabian were taken on a tour of the building in order that they might see particularly those parts of it in which he had served.

More persons were killed in rural traffic accidents in 1945 than were killed in traffic accidents in cities and towns, reports the National Safety Council. The number of rural accident victims was 17,100 and traffic fatalities in cities and towns numbered 11,400.

High School Students Visit Suffolk County Courthouse

Wednesday morning June 4, a group of about 30 N.H.S. students visited the Suffolk County Courthouse to see the way a typical court is conducted. The students left the high school via Special Bus with their teachers Mr. Stewart Holmes and Mr. Charles Peltier. The students are members of the new X course at the High School which consists of English and Problems of Democracy in a combined course. For over a week previous to the visit the students have studied about court trials and this was their opportunity to see exactly what happens in a typical court.

One of the cases heard by the students was an alleged "hit and run" accident with a lawyer from Newton, Jason Ginsberg, as the attorney for the prosecution.

A Lecture on Christian Science entitled Christian Science: The Religion of Love

by
GORDON V. COMER, C.S.B. of Denver, Colorado Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Before a large audience in First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, Gordon V. Comer, C.S.B., of Denver, Colorado, delivered a lecture Sunday afternoon, June 2nd. Mr. Comer was introduced by Mrs. Ernestine M.
Kyle, Second Reader, who said:

"Friends: On behalf of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Newton, I extend to you a most cordial welcome.

In the King James version of the Bible, we read in the Song of Solomon (Chap. 2:4) "He brought me to the banqueting house and His banner over me was love."

In the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Mary Baker Eddy tells us: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need." (pg.
494 10-11)

Today, the world at large needs the assurance that there is a power, available to all, which is able to heal its physical and mental difficulties.

Our lecturer this afternoon is Gordon V. Comer, of Denver, Colorado, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
He will explain how this law of Love operates.

The subject of his lecture is:
"Christian Science: The Religion of Love."

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

We may not always understand the words which another speaks, but if there is love in his expression, a warmth of feeling in his hand clasp, or tenderness and understanding in his manner, we never fail to understand these.

How well the apostle Paul saw that without charity or love, all gifts are as nothing. You are all familiar with his beautifully phrased words at the beginning of the 13th chapter, of 1st Corinthians:
"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal." (1 Cor. 13:1). And true it is that without love in his heart a man's words are empty and meaningless;
it is equally true that without love of one's work, and without love in one's work, great ability may produce but mediocre success. It is not an easy matter to define love.

Henry Timrod, a poet of the 19th century, has written:
"Most men know love but as a part of life."
They hide it in some corner of the breast.
Even from themselves."

True love cannot be like that.
It is not just an incidental part of life. Nor can true love be hidden away to be brought forth only according to the whim of the one who thinks that he possesses it. True love is not a personal quality, because the apostle John has said that "God is Love." (1 John 4:8) Therefore, all that is really love is the expression of God.

Mary Baker Eddy
Never has anyone, since the days of Christ Jesus, more clearly expressed true Love than did Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and that is why people in almost every land are grateful to her. They have felt the warmth of true love which is expressed in her writings, and have been blessed and healed by it.

At a time of great desperation, when the doctors believed that an accident she had had would prove fatal, a beautiful glimpse of God as Love was revealed to her, and she was immediately healed. Of this revelation, and the resulting healing, Mrs. Eddy has written, "The miracles recorded in the Bible, which had been before me, were now supernatural, grew divinely natural and apprehensible; though uninspired interpreters ignorantly pronounce Christ's healing miraculous, instead of seeing therein the operation of the divine law." (Ret.
26:12) In her book Science and Health, Mrs. Eddy explains the part that spiritual discernment played in bringing about her own healing. She writes, "Truth, spiritually discerned, is scientifically understood. It casts out error and heals the sick." (Science and Health, p. 273:31) It was this vision which helped her to see what Paul meant when he wrote that neither death nor life nor anything else can separate us from the love of God. And it was this spiritual sense of things which led her to declare as the doctrine of Christian Science that "the human body is not a material thing, but a creature of God's mind, and is not deprived of its manifestation, or object." (ibid p. 304:29)

The creation of divine Love can not be other than perfect; man then must express or include perfect health, perfect freedom, abundant happiness, and limitless good.
Because it is the nature of divine Love to express itself in infinite giving, Mrs. Eddy had to share her revelation with the world.
Without this right sense of the universal and infinite nature of divine Love, she could not have been the revealer of Christian Science. Divine Love and its perfect and spontaneous expression can never be severed. They are as separable as is, divine Love as perfect and only cause cannot be separated from its perfect expression, or perfect effect. In this sense they are one. Mrs. Eddy has written (My. p. 185:19) that "Life is the spontaneity of Love, inseparable from Love." Or we might put the same thought in another way and say that Life is the infinite and ceaseless activity of divine Love. That is what true being is. Is it not then easy to understand that this right view of creation—this Christianly scientific view of creation—of man, will restore health, harmony, and perfect good to all who honestly seek it?

Christian Science reveals the wholeness—the allness of Deity, the motherhood as well as the fatherhood of God, and it reveals Christ as the perfect expression of his divine allness. It shows that he Christ actuated the very being of Jesus, and that Jesus was the highest concept of Christ cognizable to human eyes, it was Jesus' recognition of man's spiritual, personal nature which enabled him to do this wonderful healing work—healing work which appeared miraculous to the people, but which, in the light of the divinely revealed truth of Christian Science, is shown to be the natural result of the operation of God's law. And further, Christian Science reveals that this divine healing law is as present today as it was in the days of the Master.

"Elias Must First Come"
In the record of the transfiguration (Matt. 17), Peter, James, and John his brother, inspired and spiritually illuminated by their Master's presence, saw Jesus talking with Moses and Elias. While in that presence, they heard the voice of God confirm prophecy by saying of Jesus, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." (Mt.
17:5) Many years later, Peter wrote that he was an eyewitness of the transfiguration, and that "this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount." (V.18). As they came down from the mountain —that is, as they came down from their exalted experience—they asked Jesus why the scribes said that "Elias must first come," Jesus replied that "Elias truly shall first come and restore all things." And he said further that "Elias is come already." Doubtless Jesus was endeavoring to help his disciples see that the Christ, or Saviour, when glimpsed by human consciousness, restores the realization of the nothingness of all which is unlike good—the realization of the allness of infinite good.

Mrs. Eddy presents this saving office of the Christ-Science which she named Christian Science, in her definition of "Elias" as "Prophet; spiritual evidence opposed to material sense; Christian Science, with which can be discerned the spiritual fact of whatever the material senses behold; the basis of immortality." (S. & H. 585:9) It is the purpose of Christian Science to enable mankind to discern "the spiritual fact of whatever the material senses behold." Is the word "whatever" duly impressed upon our thoughts? Mrs. Eddy does not say the spiritual fact of some things, but of all things. That does not leave one thing out. It does not leave out the most tremendous problem we can think of, nor does it leave out the most insignificant.
It does not leave out the problem which right now you believe is plaguing you. No matter what the problem or the suggestion is, Christian Science rightly applied will reveal the spiritual fact—the saving idea—the Saviour, or the Christ, and this right idea accepted, and held to, destroys all that is unlike itself.

How is Healing Accomplished?
Here one may ask: But how do I go about finding the spiritual facts that I need to solve my problem in Christian Science?

Perhaps an illustration will help to point the way for us. A sculptor was once asked how he could take a plain block of stone and make a beautiful statue out of it.
He replied simply: "I just cut away the stone I don't want, and there is my statue." His reply would seem to indicate that he had clearly seen in his thought the perfect object which he wished to depict, and when he chiseled away all that interfered with the perfect outline, only the beautiful statue remained. And so it will be with the problem we turn to God to find the perfect model and then will cut away, or better stated, separate from our thought of man, or from the universe, all that does not express the perfection of God, or Spirit, only the spiritual fact will remain. Does this sound difficult? It should not. We should not be concerned because we cannot outline the spiritual fact materially. If it could be materially outlined, it would cease to be spiritual and eternally perfect.

We agree then with the adversary quickly when he suggests that we cannot outline materially a perfect model. There is no such thing as a perfect model, or otherwise. But we do not stop there. We declare that when we have separated from our thought of man, and from the universe, all that is not Godlike, nothing remains but the spiritual fact.

In this process we do not carve out perfect man—the perfect man is already expressed where the imperfection appears to be. But as we look to our perfect model and then cut away or separate from our human concept all that is unlike God, or good, the true likeness of Christ-Deity, is revealed.
The imperfections are not in the man of God's creating nor are they any part of this man. The imperfections are in the seer, and not in the seen. They are subjective and not objective. We do not see imperfect man, for there is no such thing as an imperfect man.
We may see imperfectly. But the imperfection is in the way we see him, and not in the man himself. It makes a great difference to us in the results we realize whether or not we accept this fact.

An Illustration
The value of knowing and beholding the perfect man of God's creating is illustrated in the experience of a Christian Scientist who walked into a room where there was a very sick person. Instantly this thought came to the Christian Scientist: "Thank God that what material sense tells me is true

here, is not the truth about man.
Divine Love's ever-presence excludes presence to all that is unlike itself." And at that moment recovery began and continued until the healing was complete.

What had happened? Simply this: The Christian Scientist had refused to accept as true that which material sense suggested.
He had refused to individualize the belief by becoming a believer in it. We need not be told that a belief must have someone to believe in it before it can be even a belief. We know that. But unfortunately it is not always remembered.

Sickness is only a belief, and the moment the Christian Scientist refused to accept its suggestion, the suggestion had no power whatsoever. His understanding of divine Love's ever-presence was so clear, and his alertness to divine Principle's so spontaneous that the suggestion of divine Love's absence was not accepted by him. But how did this help the sick person? He felt the warmth of love in the Christian Scientist's thought; his fear lessened; and therefore he was receptive to the truth that makes free even though it was declared inadvisable.

One who had the great privilege of class instruction with Mrs.
Eddy has written that as she thinks back through the years she knew our Leader she always feels that the secret of Mrs. Eddy's great achievements was her boundless spirit of love for all mankind.
And she quotes her recollection of the statement Mrs. Eddy made in explanation of the method of her healing work in the following words: "I saw the love of God enveloping the universe and man filling all space, and that divine Love so permeated my own consciousness that I loved with Christ like compassion, every thing I saw.
This realization of divine Love called into expression 'the beauty of holiness, the perfection of being' (Science and Health p. 253), which

When we learn from our study of Christian Science that man is perfect because he reflects God,
who is infinite perfection, it means

Science is the true and complete
way to the happy and full life.
And unless this is realized one is not experiencing its full benefits.

In addition to the wonderful blessings that Christian Science has brought to mankind in the healing of sickness, sin, and lack,
the world is just beginning to appreciate the tremendous contribution to the sum total of human good which Mrs. Eddy's revelation of church is bringing. Are you familiar with her definition of Church? She writes that it is
"The structure of Truth and Love;
whatever rests upon and proceeds from divine Principle. The Church is that institution, which affords proof of its utility and is found elevating the race, rousing the dormant understanding from material beliefs to the apprehension
of spiritual ideas and the demonstration of divine Science, thereby casting out devil, or error, and healing the sick." (S. & H. p.
583:12-19).

The Absolute and Its Application to the Human
This definition is particularly interesting and especially helpful to beginners in the study of Christian Science, as well as to more advanced students, for the reason that it points out in its first part
the absolute facts regarding true
Church. And in the second part
it points out the human or relative function or office of Church, by which we mean the application of the absolute and eternally true concept of Church, to the relative situations or footprints in human experience which lead to perfection. If we wish to understand and be able to apply Christian Science successfully, it is extremely important that we distinguish clearly between the absolute and
its application to the human, i.e.
between the wholly spiritual and
the so-called material.

When we learn from our study
of Christian Science that man is perfect because he reflects God,
who is infinite perfection, it means

This does not mean that all mankind must be healed and saved before one can realize healing or salvation for himself. It merely means that we must begin to see man as he is revealed in the first chapter of Genesis, complete and perfect.
When we do this, we have started truly to love man. It is the viewpoint of "Love's transparency," which evidences the surrender on our part of all "material sensation, affection, and worship." (Science
and Health p. 9:20) This is true and scientific prayer. It is based upon perfect God and perfect man,
and that is where right thought
and right action must rest.

Owe No Man Anything but To Love One Another
True and scientific prayer helps us to see what Paul meant when he said "Owe no man anything but to love one another." (Rom.
13:8) We cannot truly love one another until we begin to see man as the child of divine Love.

Perhaps we have not thought so very much about what we owe our debts. They owe us, we think.
But if we ourselves are to owe no man anything but to love one another, we owe even our debtors something. And that something cannot be withheld until the material debt is paid. It is the debt we owe to all men. It is to know the individual man as God knows him. And the debt is due now. In our dealings with others, are we endeavoring to cut away or to separate from our concept of man all that is not Godlike? If we are, then we can truly say we are loving him.

Sacrament and Atonement
These facts are emphasized for us every six months in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermons on "Sacrament" and "Doctrine of Atonement."
"Sacrament," Christian Science teaches, is the expression of allegiance to God as the result of individual overcoming of evil, while "Atonement" is shown to be collective as well as individual. In both "Sacrament" and "Atonement," Mrs. Eddy answers the question
(p. 96) "Do I believe in the atonement of Christ?" in these words:
"I do; and this atonement becomes more to me since it includes man's redemption from sickness as well as from sin. I reverence and adore Christ as never before. It brings to my sense, and to the sense of all who entertain this understanding of the Science of God, a whole salvation."

"Sacrament" is that mental preparedness which enables one to see and accept the truth of Christ. It is that progressive step which reveals atonement, or man's at-one-ment with God, and this at-one-ment includes the true idea of Church, and it reveals man as he really is—as divine Love reveals him. And individual man, the individual expression of divine Love, is the very truth about you, individual selfhood—the real and only you.

Does the Way Seem Difficult to You?
Does mortal mind sometimes suggest that the way of salvation which Christian Science points out is too hard? If so, do you answer: Can any thing be half as difficult as it is to put up with error?
Of course Christian Science demands something of us. It does not offer something for nothing. Yes, it is the Comforter, and to achieve that comfort and consolation, we have to contribute what every one has to give—honesty, purity, sincerity, humility, receptivity, gratitude, and such simple Godlike qualities, which every individual expresses.

And so listen not to discouragement if it comes. Listen not to the suggestion that Christian Science may be all right for those who know enough, but that possibly you do not know enough. If you are honest and sincere, your present understanding, no matter how little it may seem, is sufficient to guide you in the right steps in solving your present problem. Jesus said, "What things so ever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them." (Matt. 10:8)

And so, with Church, Christian Science teaches that the absolute truth about it is realized as the steps relating to the human application and demonstration of it are taken and proved. The understanding of true Church, as revealed by Mrs. Eddy, offers the way of universal salvation. It shows man as coexistent and coeternal with God, and that only as we realize this truth about Church can we realize complete salvation for ourselves.
This true view of Church makes plain that one can never withdraw himself or separate himself from the true Church while beholding man as he really is, one divine consciousness, or Soul, or God. This view of Church is the Church of Love triumphant, the Church of universal salvation, the Church of which Christ is the corner stone.
It fulfills the admission of the Master, "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils."
(Matt. 10:8)

Mrs. Eddy Points Way to Universal
Salvation Through True Church
By acknowledging that God is divine Love, Christian Science
points the way to universal salvation. The great value of Christian Science is recognized in the healing of sickness and of sin. But the healing of sickness is only a small part of the potential value of this Science of true being. Christian

Science is the true and complete
way to the happy and full life.
And unless this is realized one is
not experiencing its full benefits.

In addition to the wonderful
blessings that Christian Science
has brought to mankind in the healing of sickness, sin, and lack,
the world is just beginning to appreciate the tremendous contribution to the sum total of human good
which Mrs. Eddy's revelation of church is bringing. Are you familiar with her definition of Church? She writes that it is
"The structure of Truth and Love;
whatever rests upon and proceeds
from divine Principle. The Church
is that institution, which affords
proof of its utility and is found
elevating the race, rousing the
dormant understanding from material beliefs to the apprehension
of spiritual ideas and the demonstration of divine Science, thereby casting out devil, or error, and
healing the sick." (S. & H. p.
583:12-19).

The Absolute and Its Application
to the Human
This definition is particularly interesting and especially helpful
to beginners in the study of Christian Science, as well as to more advanced students, for the reason
that it points out in its first part
the absolute facts regarding true
Church. And in the second part
it points out the human or relative function or office of Church, by which we mean the application of
the absolute and eternally true
concept of Church, to the relative situations or footprints in human experience which lead to perfection. If we wish to understand and be able to apply Christian Science successfully, it is extremely important that we distinguish
clearly between the absolute and
its application to the human, i.e.
between the wholly spiritual and

Mrs. Eddy Points Way to Universal
Salvation Through True Church
By acknowledging that God is
divine Love, Christian Science
points the way to universal salvation. The great value of Christian Science is recognized in the healing of sickness and of sin. But the healing of sickness is only a small part of the potential value of this Science of true being. Christian

Science is the true and complete
way to the happy and full life.
And unless this is realized one is
not experiencing its full benefits.

Right Concept of Prayer
This true concept of Church is an essential part of healing prayer.

The first chapter in the textbook of Christian Science opens with these words: "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God, a spiritual understanding of Him, an unselfed love." (1:1-4) It is love derived from Principle; and because it is derived from Principle, and because it is a quality of Principle, it is not a personal possession, but is expressed by all of God's children impartially. A God-bestowed sense of love realizes the importance of Jesus' statement: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matt.
6:33)

It is only as we see the universal family of man saved that we fully realize individual salvation. Christian Science teaches individual salvation through prayer. But individual salvation is realized for ourselves only as we begin to see man as the compound idea of God—of divine and infinite Love. And therefore it is not clear that we cannot get into the kingdom of heaven ourselves without relinquishing our imperfect human concept of God, as we do when we seek, for divine Love's perfect concept, individual man cannot isolate himself from generic man, or the family of men.

In this same chapter on "Prayer," Mrs. Eddy writes: "Dost thou 'love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind?' This command includes much, even the surrender of all material sensation, affection, and worship. This is the El Dorado of Christianity." (9:17-21)
If "the El Dorado of Christianity" is to love God with all of our very being, then obviously the very substance or essence of our real-being is love. Love, Love, Love—this would include love for His every act and for all that expresses Him. Man is the highest concept of this divine expression. In the words of our Leader, "Let mortals bow before the creator, and, looking through Love's transparency, behold man God's own image and likeness." (Mis. 330:15-17)

This does not mean that all mankind must be healed and saved before one can realize healing or salvation for himself. It merely means that we must begin to see man as he is revealed in the first chapter
of Genesis, complete and perfect.
When we do this, we have started
truly to love man. It is the viewpoint of "Love's transparency,"
which evidences the surrender on
our part of all "material sensation,
affection, and worship." (Science
and Health p. 9:20) This is true
and scientific prayer. It is based upon perfect God and perfect man,
and that is where right thought
and right action must rest.

JERRY COLONNA

Jerry Colonna, Boston-born comic and colleague of Bob Hope, is bringing his company of Hollywood stars for two appearances Sunday afternoon and evening, June 16, at Totem Pole Ballroom, Norumbega Park, Auburndale. The entire proceeds go to the building fund of the Christopher Columbus Catholic Center in the North End, sponsored by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

Colonna will feature Tony Romano, romantic singing guitarist who accompanied Hope and Colonna overseas to entertain G. I.'s; Fay McKenzie, singing film star and Gene Autry's leading lady; Bonnie Lou Williams, former Tommy Dorsey vocalist, and others.

A large committee is selling tickets for these shows, which are also obtainable at Totem Pole Ballroom's box office and at Jordan Marsh Travel Bureau.

The committee leaders include the Rev. Maurice J. O'Brien, pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Boston; The Rev. Timothy F. O'Leary, Ph.D., headmaster of the Christopher Columbus Catholic High School, and director of the Center's drive and the Rev. Patrick Crowley, O.F.M., chaplain and director of religious guidance at the high school.

Frank A. Day Junior High School

At the Memorial Day Assembly under the leadership of Richard Egan of Grade 9, Nancy Shea gave the highlights of the history of this holiday. Bradford Chase, also of Grade 9, read the school's Gold Star Honor Roll which has been prepared by Miss Hinkley. At the close of this reading, a one-minute silent tribute was paid to the memory of those former Day students who made the supreme sacrifice. During this silence, Richard Holmes of Grade 7 played "Taps." "The Dead Speakeath," a poem by James G. Bell, was given by Ann Shriberg. Lieutenant Ernest Colantonio, a former Day student, who served for forty months in the Naval Air Corps and flew one hundred four missions, was the speaker.

Information regarding the Newton Summer School session, beginning July 1 and extending through August 9, has been released. Registration is from June 12 through 26. There will be no classes for Grade 7 students. For Grade 8, there will be opportunities for English and Math make-ups. All subjects will be offered for Grade 9 students. The tuition fee is $12.00 per subject.

Under Miss Hinkley's leadership and guidance, several pupils have at last completed the War Service Records of the F. A. Day School. These three, beautifully bound volumes are for the School Archives. This worthy undertaking required much time and energy and our thanks and appreciation goes to Miss Hinkley and her student helpers.

The entire 8th Grade and a group of 9th Grade students had the privilege of seeing the film, "The Forum Scene with Mark Antony's Oration" as taken from Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar".

Associated Industries Pays Tribute To Newton Plant

Tribute to the outstanding work of a Newton plant, The Workshop Associates, Inc., of Newton Highlands was made this month by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts. Appearing in the May issue of the official A.I.M. publication, INDUSTRY, is a complete account of the meteoric rise of this company since the days of Pearl Harbor.

Titled, "From the Cellar to the Sky", the article tells how when the war came, Gardiner

Greene, company president was a salesman with a hobby. By the end of the war the development of his hobby had made possible the production of critical war goods at the rate of a million dollars a year and resulted in the establishment of the Workshop Associates as specialists in the field of high frequency antennas.

Scores of Newtonites contributed to the great war job performed by this plant. Starting from a group of cellar workshops scattered around the Newtons the group grew into a compact aggressive organization which at one time totaled 100 employees. Shortly after V-J day they were awarded the coveted Army-Navy "E" Award for their outstanding war record. Both Gardiner Greene and John R. Perry Jr., founders of the group, are Newton residents.

The article predicts that the Workshop Associates will have a successful post-war future as the result of their specialization in the high frequency antenna field for the electronics industry. They are one of the very few plants in the United States so specialized.

OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

Tires are arriving every week—perhaps we have your size now!

The new Silverstone tire with a wider, flatter tread plus more rubber where you need it—on the road! It has a stronger body with tougher cords and more of them plus two breaker strips to cushion sudden blows that sent that bubble cap flying on Jimmie Lynch's car above.

Result? A tire that's safer than prewar tires because it grips the road better when moving, hugs it tighter in stopping. A tire that in laboratory tests resists bruising better than prewar tires. A tire that actually OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES—even at high speeds!

Are Referendums Good For Newton?

Recent activity by firemen circulating a petition for a 48-hour week calls to mind the readiness with which voters granted the 2-platoon system a few years ago. The complexities of hours for a fire department and related costs are understood by few people, yet citizens settled that question by a referendum ballot despite an adverse report of an Aldermanic Committee which indicated that the time was not right for the change.

Many men are employed in positions which keep them from home long hours and days. It has been said that the tax rate, if affected at all, would be insignificantly affected, and that no rise in the tax rate accompanied the installation of the 2-platoon system. Discussion has involved the present City surplus, without consideration of the fact there is always plenty of unpredictable "grief" to sop up any financial "gravy."

In 1940 the Fire Department payroll was $250,732. To staff the department for the 2-platoon system would, in 1946, call for $353,304, or an increase of $102,572. To cover the 70-hour week granted by the Aldermen June 3, 1946, calls for $409,604, a further increase of $56,300. If the citizens of Newton-voted the 48-hour week, the payroll would have risen to $523,454 in 1947 compared with $250,732 in 1940, or an increase of $272,722. Over a ten-year period this increase for this one department would have amounted to $2,727,220, or more than twice the City surplus, yet some have said that such matters would affect tax rates insignificantly.

Citizen interest is commendable, but thinking taxpayers should be extremely wary of signing petitions and voting referendums without a complete understanding of the true costs involved. One corollary arises. Whereas the 2-platoon system adds 26 men to the force and the 70-hour law adds an additional 23 men, with this added number of men available, considered with the low fire loss record of the City, a lower fire insurance cost should result to those paying these increased costs and supplying added protection.

June 18 Primaries

A few comments about the Primaries on Tuesday, June 18 may be in order. Last week I spoke my piece about the local Senatorial contest between Richard H. Lee of Newton and Loomis Patrick of West Newton. There seems to be little, if anything, to add this week. Both men served in World War II. Lee with the combat forces and Patrick in the AMG. Both men received official honors. Both are substantial citizens of the highest type and have carved out fine records in our city. Newton will be well served by either of these men, whom I have known, liked and respected for many years.

An interesting development in the fight for Lt. Governor is the mailing of a post-card recently by our present State Senator, Benjamin J. Bowen of West Newton, who states that the President of the State Senate, Arthur W. Coolidge of Reading, "has made an exceptional record in both the Senate and House of Representatives. He will make an excellent Lieutenant Governor." To be sure, the supporters of the other candidate, Albert Cole of Lynn, who has served both in the State Senate and as Mayor of Lynn may counter this strong endorsement by saying that our local Senator would naturally be expected to support his Senate President. That is perfectly true. However, I do not believe that Senator Bowen would put out such a sincerely worded card UNLESS he honestly believed that President Coolidge was the man for the job.

Next we have the same contest as last year for Treasurer. Once again Laurence Curtis of Boston is battling Fred J. Burrell of Medford, who served very briefly as Treasurer in 1920 and retired under what appeared to be a cloud. (And that is giving this candidate a real break.) Curtis is a very high-grade man with a fine background and a long record of public service. Burrell beat him two years ago, but he may not do so this year. Then we have the race for Auditor, in which my old friend Russell A. Wood of Cambridge, who served in this position in 1939 and 1940 is opposed by the perennial Young Republican, Wallace E. Stearns of Boston, who ran for Treasurer, if my memory serves me, a few years ago. In my opinion, Wood is the man to vote for.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Incinerated Tin Cans Edge Highlands Street

To the Editor:

As has been mentioned more than once, going on three years, state law requires that public streets be kept safe for travel, involving among other things, fencing off embankments, proper drains and warning signs.

For a long time since the aged wooden fence along the south side of Elliot street between the incinerator and Circuit avenue gave up, this spot of embankment has been a constant menace to the public.

City officials, after protest, have viewed the situation and are credited with the opinion that "no fence is necessary." Claims for damages resulting from similar conclusions are not unknown. Perhaps the Taxpayers' Association members might have thoughts.

No fence, no protection, but lately some noticeable action has come to view. Incinerated tin cans have been dumped along a portion of the street, some of them in fact about four to six feet in the street, an extra menace to autoists. Discounting the esthetic embellishment to the highway, the tin cans cannot be considered as covering state law adequately where protection is required against a ten to fifteen foot embankment. How come?

Inclination of city officials seems to go to extremes. Tin cans in lieu of fence in one part of the city while a proposal to spend an initial $600,000 in widening a bottleneck in another district gets a forward push even before the public has been informed as to whether a considerable part of the traffic now plugging Nonantum Square might not be diverted, thus simplifying present ills.

Here you are: incinerated tin cans for embankment, and wads of money for bottleneck.

A.V.C. Will Hold Forum on Federal Health Legislation

A forum on the Federal Health legislation, expected to come before the next session of the Congress, will be held at the Newtonville Women's Club on Thursday, June 20th, at 8 p. m. At this open meeting of the Newton Chapter of the American Veterans Committee, two prominent Boston surgeons will head up the discussion of the legislation, representing the support and the opposition.

Dr. Leland S. McKittrick, Surgeon in chief of the Palmer and Deaconess hospitals, and a member of the American Medical Association's committee to oppose the Murray-Wagner-Dingle bill will talk and answer questions in opposition.

Dr. Edward L. Young, Surgeon in chief of the Faulkner hospital, head of the Cabot Fund in Boston, will talk in support of the legislation. Dr. Young will leave shortly as head of an American committee to investigate the need of American aid in the devastated areas of Russia.

Although veterans and their guests are especially welcome at this meeting, this AVC Chapter extends an invitation to all citizens to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to hear this impending legislation discussed, to ask questions, and join in the discussion. Invitations will be sent to all Newton physicians, especially those who served in the armed forces, to come and participate in the discussion of this problem as it concerns this city directly.

Because of the immense popularity of the Day Camp program at the Newton YMCA another day camp will be operated this summer by the local Y at Riverside in Auburndale. This summer with the additional facilities of Riverside being made available 250 boys a day may be accommodated. Camp Chickami as the new project will be known will have an adult responsible and trained staff of leaders to conduct the daily program. All activities in which the campers participate will be supervised and instructions in swimming, athletics and nature study will comprise the greater part of the program.

The program will be operated five days a week with Saturday being the exception. The program will begin each morning at 9 and continue until 3 in the afternoon. The program is designed to best suit those boys between the ages of 7 and 12 with boys being divided into groups

TO BOSTON EDISON CUSTOMERS

All Boston Edison supply lines which were damaged during the cyclonic storm of Saturday night have now been restored to service. If any customer is still without electric service, due to unusual conditions in or near his home, and will call the Edison emergency number listed in the telephone directory, we shall be glad to make immediate repairs in each case.

Although the Saturday night storm was of short duration, it was one of the most destructive of its kind in Edison experience. The number of service interruptions was exceeded only by the hurricanes of 1938 and 1944. Approximately 150,000 of our 425,000 customers were without service during or just after the storm, but the work of restoration, which was under way while the storm was still raging, proceeded so rapidly during the night and all day Sunday that at the end of twenty-four hours the services of more than 95 per cent of the affected customers had been restored.

We express our appreciation to all who helped us accomplish the work of restoration so speedily — to public officials for their co-operation, to other electric companies and contractors who supplied emergency crews to augment our own forces, and particularly to our customers for their generous and understanding attitude.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen

From
The Newton League of Women Voters

GENTLEMEN, THE PRIMARIES!

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters, as a service to voters and candidates alike, has sent a questionnaire to all contestants in the primaries, consisting of three general questions relative to our State, and one question aiming at a local issue. They are:

1. What are the major legislative needs of Massachusetts in the next five years?
2. What immediate legislative action should be taken to improve the finances and the economic prospects of the City of Boston?
3. Do you support state-wide extension of juvenile courts?
4. What is your opinion on the adoption of Plan E as a form of government for Newton?

The three contestants for the State Senate replied as follows:

Casper Thomas Dorfman:

1. Immediate Housing for the lower income groups; better care for the insane; improvement of the tax structure.
2. The appointment of a legislative commission to make a survey with a report to the governor and legislature.
3. Yes.
4. I am in favor of Plan E as a form of government for Newton. The breakdown in garbage and snow removal by the present administration last winter is only one of many reasons why a change would promote efficiency and increase services to the taxpayers.

Richard H. Lee:

1. Adoption of recommendations of Judicial Council for full time circuit judges in our district courts; improvement of prison and parole systems; well-planned public works program for airports and traffic arteries; extension of uniform state laws.
2. Put Plan E on referendum for Boston with enabling legislation.
3. Yes.
4. I do not oppose Plan E for Newton, but do not regard it as a panacea to cure all municipal ills.

Loomis Patrick:

1. Reorganization of the tax structure; reorganization of district court system; economy in government expenditures.
2. Establish a rigid control of expenditures.
3. Yes, in principle.
4. Undecided at the present time.

The six contestants for State Representatives replied as follows:

George E. Rawson:

1. Our supreme need is to get back to the sound economy, wise, and humane administration such as Saltonstall gave us. If we do not we are headed for a crash.
2. The General Court should set up a commission to take Boston over as was done by Fall River.
3. Yes. We must also find a way to make parents realize their responsibilities to their children.
4. We do not need it here for any reason whatever.

Arthur S. Scipione:

1. Taxation and Housing.
2. Refer it for immediate legislative investigation by a paid body.
3. Yes.
4. I espouse the Plan E government for the City of Newton.

Joseph L. Sholkin:

1. Improve traffic, harbor, and airport facilities; adequate housing and rehabilitation of veterans.
2. The legislature should establish a non-political commission to make recommendations for a long-range program.
3. Only in those areas where there is a specific need. The quality rather than the quantity of juvenile courts is to be emphasized.
4. I favor Plan E for Newton as for any community where there are indications of machine politics and mismanagement.

Margaret S. Spear:

1. Change in adoption laws; providing for more institutions for feeble-minded children. A new prison to replace Charlestown. Legislation to prevent delinquency.
2. Plan E, to Commission.
3. Yes.
4. I should vote for it.

John S. Whittemore:

1. A modern up-to-date tax structure, elimination of unnecessary Bureaus and Commissions — economy in government.
2. A trial of Plan E.
3. In principle, yes.
4. ? ? ?

Howard Whitmore, Jr.:

1. Expansion of educational facilities for veterans; legislation to expedite housing programs; greater emphasis on physical education in schools; investigation and study of juvenile delinquency.
2. Blank.
3. Yes.
4. No definite opinion pending further study of the and its possible advantages for Newton.

16,000 Attend Rotary Convention In Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., June 2—With an attendance of 16,000 Rotarians and members of their families from 50 different countries, the 37th annual convention of Rotary International convened in Atlantic City on June 2nd. Opening the convention program, Dr. Walter H. Judd, member of Congress from Minnesota and former medical missionary in China, declared that if an enduring world peace is to be achieved, ethical and moral progress must keep pace with economic and scientific development.

Keynote of this 5-day gathering of business and professional executives, representing 5800 Rotary Clubs in 72 countries, was the internationality of the Rotary organization. Emphasis was given throughout the convention to the opportunities which Rotarians have in all parts of the world to assist in the achievement of the goals of the United Nations, which are strikingly similar to one of the principal objectives of Rotary International — the advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace.

Rotary's internationality was depicted in a pageant narrated by Quentin Reynolds, radio commentator author and war correspondent. Special tribute was paid in this presentation to the Rotary Clubs in those former Axis-occupied countries which have been readmitted to membership in Rotary International since the end of the war—Belgium, Burma, Czechoslovakia, France, Greece, Hong Kong, Luxembourg, Norway, the Marianas, the Netherlands, the Philippines, and the Straits Settlements.

Presiding over the convention was the President of Rotary International, T. A. Warren, noted educator of Wolverhampton, England.

Among the outstanding speakers during the week were Clinton P. Anderson, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture; C. T. Wang of Chungking, former Chinese Ambassador to the United States; Almon E. Roth, President of the National Federation of American Shipping; Captain Harold E. Stassen, former Governor of Minnesota; H. Raymond King, noted educator of London, England; I. B. Sutton, Tampico, Mexico, industrialist; Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, member of the United States Educational Mission to Japan; and Luis Machado of Havana, Cuba, Executive Director for Latin America on the International

Businessmen, Home Owners Pay Bills, Kiwanians Told

Asserting that some twenty-seven million home owners, the "Grass Roots People," are utterly unorganized and therefore unable to protect their rights, Mr. Henry Warner, a member of the Real Estate Board and official of the National Home and Property Owners Foundation, speaking before the Kiwanis Club, at the Y.M.C.A., Wednesday, urged home owners and businessmen to join the organization he represented.

"One has only to take a look around to see who is organized," he said. "The automobile owners have their American Automobile Association, the auto dealers their National Automobile Dealers Association. The motor car manufacturers are organized, as are the railroads. There is no purpose in discussing here," he continued, "the organization of labor unions. The story is too well known."

"All of these organizations operate on a national scale," Mr. Warner added. "All of them maintain offices in Washington along with the bankers, insurance companies, great industrialists and others. These groups can raise their voices to a nation wide crescendo when legislation is advanced which is designed in any way to injure their interests or the interests of their participating members."

"The property owner, however," concluded the speaker, "standing alone and unorganized, has no nation wide organization to speak for him when his interests are at issue. To organize home owners is the purpose of the N.H.P.O.F."

With several million home owners in the fold, Mr. Warner optimistically predicted a rosy future for the businessman and home owner.

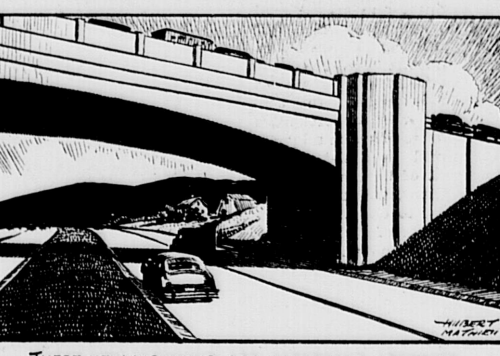

Frank Battles, presiding in the absence of President William Sullivan, who is attending the Kiwanis International Convention, at Atlantic City, conveyed the thanks of the Club and the Board of Directors to Mark Hopkins for his many gifts to Kiwanis and to Richard Brown for his achievements with the Kiwanis sponsored Sea Scouts of Ship 12. Next week the Cambridge Kiwanis Club will be entertained by Newton Kiwanis. A visiting Kiwanian and a guest were welcomed at this meeting.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

SUPER-HIGHWAYS

THE ROADS OUR FATHERS BUILT SERVED THEM WELL, BUT TO MEET THE NEEDS OF AMERICA TODAY, WE ARE ENGINEERING A NEW CONCEPT OF HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION—BUILDING FOR GREATER EFFICIENCY AND SAFETY—FOR SWIFTER TRANSPORT.

THESE NEW HIGHWAYS ARE IMPORTANT ARTERIES IN THE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM OF OUR COUNTRY. BUT BEYOND THAT, THEY CREATE BROADER HORIZONS FOR LIVING—TEND TO BRING PEOPLE OF ALL SECTIONS CLOSER TOGETHER IN UNDERSTANDING AND APPRECIATION OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

over Tokyo in a B-29. The others were spared to return to Newton, some with impaired health and disabilities which ultimately may shorten the normal span of life.

"When we dwell upon the heroic services of those in the Armed Forces we must not overlook heroic services rendered in our midst. I wish to direct your thought to the sacrifices of life and health involved in the every day duties of those who serve Newton and its people as members of our splendid Fire Department. Let us then never be forgetful of our debt to the living as well as the dead."

Of the deceased members of the department back through the years to the beginning of the department he said "we ask that you of the living be our witness to a pledge that they will never be forgotten. Their duties and deeds did not have the same appeal to the public mind as is instanced with happenings of a military nature, nevertheless, we are mindful of all the sacrifices they made."

Elks—

was the war-time recruiting of Army Engineers and Navy Seabees, undertaken at the request of the Army and Navy Departments, which resulted in the entire complement of needed men being secured three months ahead of schedule.

Recalling "the magnificent and generous cooperation and help which the Order of Elks gave to the Army Recruiting Service when it was building up the country's Army and Air Forces prior to the war," General Gilbert appealed for cooperation specifically on two points:

1. Passage of a resolution endorsing the Army's Voluntary Enlistment Program.

2. Development of a plan of cooperation whereby the local Elks Lodges throughout the country would work with the local Army Recruiting Service in their communities with a minimum objective of attempting to deliver one volunteer each month for each 100 members of the Lodge."

With a post-war membership of 800,000, Exalted Ruler Nicholas Veducchio pointed out, this campaign should result in the Order's aiding in the enlistment of 8000 monthly.

General Gilbert asserted that the War Department's manpower requirements call for an Army of 1,550,000 by July of this year and that its policy is to make the new Army of Volunteers as rapidly as possible.

Congress, he said, has provided a number of new inducements which make service in the Army more attractive today than ever before. General Gilbert also disclosed that since October, 1945, more than 747,000 volunteer enlistments in the Regular Army have been secured, the largest force of volunteers in any Army at one time in all history. That number, he said, however, was less than half the number required for the interim force and he stressed that the number of future volunteers must be greatly increased.

Lasell Junior College

At the last chapel for the one hundred and seventy-nine members of the graduating class, on Commencement Day, June 10th, certificates and awards were given in special courses and in sports.

The Commencement address was given by Dr. Clyde Yarbrough of the Second Church, West Newton. This was followed by the presentation of diplomas and degrees, a farewell ceremony at the Crow's Nest, and the Commencement luncheon.

such persons are invited to visit the enrollment center for information about Group memberships.

The most impressive feature of this enrollment campaign according to Miss Hussey, is the encouragement and cooperation given the Blue Cross by Newton officials and private citizens. The girl scouts, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Richardson, secretary, have volunteered to assist at the enrollment center. Mr. Clifford H. Walker, stated that the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, of which he is president, is firmly behind the Blue Cross enrollment campaign; that Blue Cross membership has saved thousands of dollars for patients at their Hospital. We can't begin to express our appreciation to everyone who is lending his services to make our campaign a success," Miss Hussey said, "but I do wish to thank Mr. Rupert Thompson, Secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, the School of Officials and the students who were responsible for the distribution of the Blue Cross information folders, the Newton Churches, Mr. Herbert McGill of the Rotary Club, P. O. Ahlin, Editor of the GRAPHIC, Harold T. Pillsbury of the Kiwanis, Mr. Austin Flint of the Lions Club and so many more—everyone has been so helpful."

The experience of over fifty enrollment campaigns in Massachusetts this year, has shown that many individuals who will Blue Cross protection wait until the last day before applying. This causes unnecessary waiting and frequently all applicants cannot be taken care of; so for your own convenience, Blue Cross urges that you apply during the first week of the campaign.

Waste Paper

Lady of Lourdes, and St. Bernard's.

Catholic families of these parishes have been urged to have their waste paper tied in bundles and placed in front of their homes before 1 p.m. Sunday.

Men and older boys constitute the paper drive committees for the respective parishes, and arrangements have been made to have trucks make pickups similar to those made in paper drives in all parts of the country during the war.

Purpose of the campaign is threefold—to aid the paper industry which is in dire need of raw material, to contribute to the national reconversion fund, and to benefit the Archbishop Cushing Charity Fund. The Archbishop's fund provides support for charitable institutions in the Archdiocese and assists in launching new projects to aid the poor and needy.

As was the case in wartime paper collections, residents are asked to tie their newspapers, magazines, and paper boxes in separate bundles.

Cub Scout—

Lee of Newton, President James C. Walton, Robert E. Pettit, Scout Executive, and Ward Wetherell, Cubmaster of Pack 7C, reviewed the parade; Cubmaster Wetherell was director of the parade and review.

A series of athletic events, relay races, broad jump, high jump, and commando-run, was climaxed by a pie-eating contest. William Barker, Cub Scout Committeeman with Pack 15 directed the athletic events.

Approximately 350 Cub Scouts, guests, and parents witnessed the affair.

Storm—

sparking and throwing entire neighborhoods into panic—the fire department was called out 11 times because of the live wire menace. Our Lady's Church steeple was struck, the cross falling to a ledge on the church roof, where it hung precariously, until it was taken down by steeplejacks. Sunday morning. Thousands of homes were left without electricity or phones and several automobiles were smashed.

The real blow was brief, however, not over five minutes. But while it was on, travel by automobile was practically impossible because of the gale driven rain, and highly dangerous by reason of falling trees. A pedestrian, braving the storm, very likely would have been badly injured by the oversized hailstones, not to mention trees and falling branches.

Your correspondent was riding along Soldiers Field Road, a passenger in the world's most dilapidated Ford, when the elements nearly took off, and the wreck nearly took off. The driver, a well known West Newton eccentric, deciding a halt was called for, parked alongside to the gale, smack along a gigantic tree that, already, was bowing in the direction of our alleged automobile. The hailstones were drumming on the windows in a smashing barrage, and so loudly that we had to shout in order to hear. The outside trees, tons and tons of it, was groaning in its never ceasing efforts to drop in on us. So, that neither operator or passenger was happy at all, when stepping on the starter, so's to get the 'ell out of there, it was discovered that the gale driven rain had soaked the wiring of our, ahem, automobile and the motor wouldn't start. Everything ended all right, though. The tree stayed up, the hailstones stayed out, and the car started just as slick as you please... after the danger had passed.

Returning to Newton Corner and to work, the writer attempted, until 7 a.m., to get people to their homes. Waverly ave., Park st., Eldredge st., Centre st., (where at 2 a.m., we talked with Wilfred Chagnon, who was keeping Hubbard's drug store open for emergencies) and practically all of the streets in this section of Newton were blocked by fallen trees. Newton Centre had but slight damage, and Auburndale, so far as this department could see, was practically untouched. At this writing, the street lights in Newton Corner are still out and hundreds of homes are still without electricity. Those in all-electric homes are having a difficult time.

Surely, that five minute work-out by the elements, again testifies that in this Universe's scheme of things, man and his works are extremely puny.

Rep. Rawson Hospital—

representative from the 4th Middlesex district, was born in Holliston. He was educated at Amherst College, where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa. He was graduated from Amherst in 1908 "magna cum laude," and has been secretary of his class for many years. He has been in the insurance business in Boston for thirty-two years, and is a member of the Boston Life Underwriters Association and of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Mrs. Rawson was Florence Alice Perkins of Suffield, Conn. The Rawsons have lived at 27 Marlboro street, Newton for 22 years.

Rep. Rawson has been a member of the Newton Republican Ward and City Committees since 1924. He has been chairman of the Ward 7 committee since 1929. He was elected to the Newton Board of Aldermen in 1934 and served on the Public Works Committee, and the Claims and Rules committee of which he was chairman for seven years. He was responsible for the passage of the new building code of 1939 and the amended zoning ordinance of 1940. He resigned from the Board in 1943 on becoming a member of the House.

He was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1942. On his first term he served as clerk of the Committee on Election Laws. He was also appointed clerk of the Committee on Military Affairs and Public Safety, on death of the elected clerk of that committee.

As a member of that committee he had a large part in the successful fight to extend and modernize Logan Airport, East Boston. He was also one of a subcommittee of three appointed to study the Cocoanut Grove disaster in order to recommend legislation to prevent a recurrence. After many weeks of work he and Senator Clampt of Springfield, wrote the Public Safety Act of 1943, a new building safety code for the state, which has proved to be successful in preventing such disasters.

He was reelected to the House in 1944. In his present term Speaker Willis appointed him Chairman of the Committee on Election Laws, and he has continued as Clerk of the Committee on Military Affairs and Public Safety. The Speaker also appointed him vice chairman of the Research Commission to study Primary and Election Laws. He has had a large part in the first general revision of the election laws since 1913. He hopes to complete their revision in the next two years. As clerk of Military Affairs and Public reach the goal which will make the hospital's expansion program possible.

"I cannot stress too strongly," Mr. Babson said, "that because the hospital's building fund campaign is a project which comes but once in a generation it calls for contributions of substantial greater amounts than are customary in connection with campaigns which occur annually."

Right Reverend Monsignor Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church in Newton Centre, told the workers that the hospital is a personal factor in the lives of all residents of this community and may be of vital importance at any time.

A feature of the evening was the presentation by Mr. Babson of orchids grown at his home to three of the women volunteers. Recipients of the flowers were Mrs. F. Marsena Butts whose women's teams organization in Newton exceeded the total reported by the men's teams in Newton; Mrs. Orville W. Forte, representing Mrs. Ellis L. Gates, captain of team 38 in Waban reporting the largest total of any woman's team, and Mrs. Olney S. Morrill of Wellesley whose team in district G led all women's teams in that town.

The team reporting the largest total Tuesday night was team 187 headed by Sol Finkelstein of Waban Hill who announced 12 subscriptions for $1,950 — an average subscription of $162.50.

Reports of Newton teams by villages follow with the names of village chairmen of men's and women's teams. Totals are for two report meetings.

The voices of your friends

One of the many "little ways" in which your telephone service has improved over a period of years is in the quality of voice transmission. You hear your friends more clearly and distinctly than before. Our engineers have measured it like this:

In 1920, the average long distance conversation was like talking with a friend in a quiet open field at a distance of 80 feet. Today, the equivalent distance is about 15 feet.

Such improvements are the result of constant research by scientists at the Bell Laboratories. These men are now at work on new projects which promise you faster, better telephoning than you have ever known.

Rotarians Hear Talk By Col. Dr. Murray, Army Psychiatrist

Col. Dr. John M. Murray, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, who served during World War II as chief psychiatrist for the U. S. Army, and is now consulting psychiatrist for the Veterans Administration and doing psychiatric work at M. I. T. with the returning veterans, was the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday, June 7. He was introduced by Orville Clapper who presided at the meeting in the absence of Warren Oliver.

Speaking on the topic "Problems of the Returning Veteran," Dr. Murray said: "The strains and tensions of the war were so great that about 60 per cent of the veterans' medical problems are psychiatric, although thus far there has been no apparent increase in insanity resulting from war service. The more common symptoms are emotional disturbance and irritability, persistent nightmares in which combat crises are relieved, sleeplessness, alcoholism growing out of attempts to forget, tremors, heart palpitation, indigestion, depression; startled reaction to sudden noises, an unreasonable belligerency, or conversely, a feeling of passive dependence. Virtually all such cases have been completely, or almost completely cured where it has been possible to give the veteran individual, personalized treatment—about 90 per cent recovering in about 6 weeks." He also spoke very highly of the work of the Veterans Administration under General Bradley and Captain Blaine, and commended the wise and extensive program they are trying to put into effect.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

The following statement by Mr. Frank A. Christensen, President of The National Board of Fire Underwriters has summed up the situation which we all face and it is up to all of us to do our part to prevent this needless fire waste.

"Carelessness takes average toll of 27 lives every day in year." The appalling rate increases in our national fire losses calls for the attention of everyone interested in the general social and economic welfare of our country. For the year ending in April, this terrific waste, a large part of which is preventable, was only a few millions short of the half billion dollars—the largest twelve months' total ever recorded by the National Board of Fire Underwriters on the present basis of keeping figures.

If the present rate of careless waste goes on through 1946, the toll of our real wealth, much of it productive wealth which our people can ill afford to lose today, will surely make 1946 the worst year of reckless burning our nation has ever known, surpassing even the tragic years of vast citywide conflagrations.

For eight years now this terrible evidence of national carelessness and recklessness has been growing at faster rate nearly every year. 1944 was 17 per cent more destructive than 1943. 1945 was 10.7 per cent worse than 1944. 1946 in four months is already 25.5 per cent higher than the same period in 1945.

Even more disturbing is the rate of increases in April 1946, loss over April, 1945. That was 37 per cent—37 per cent higher than a year ago. Losses in March this year were 30 per cent higher than March a year ago. February losses were 25 per cent higher than February a year ago. January losses were 11 per cent higher. This devastating waste by preventable fire will have to be slowed down somewhere soon. We are a wealthy country but no country, however rich, can escape the serious economic and social consequences of such a constantly increasing drain on vital living facilities and the productive capacities which are its life blood.

Equally shocking and appalling is loss of life. A few months ago newspapers and radio news periods had extensive reports of a "Blazing Sunday", on which 26 lives were lost in a few spectacular fires. That seemed unusual, but actually it was not. An average of 27 lives are lost every day. More than 10,000 lives—and the number is rising—are lost every year in fires, many of them preventable. The great tragedy is that a large number lost are helpless children.

Our people never fail to meet a national emergency when they know the facts. With critical shortages in housing, building materials, clothing, food and the very necessities of life, in America and everywhere, it is imperative that the people know the facts and their significance about the great toll on the national economy because of our national inattention at the moment. Preventable fire loss, added to other preventable waste, is bleeding us white, slowly but surely, and intensifying our shortages of housing and commodities.

The number of destructive fires is increasing at an alarming rate at a time when our people need housing, building materials, foodstuffs, raw materials for reconversion of factories, and all of the necessities of life as never before.

This doesn't make sense when families that cannot find decent homes are living in abandoned trolly car bodies, old chicken coops, makeshift shacks and sub-normal, unhealthy crowded housing of all kinds. It does not make sense to stand by as citizens while homes, factories, food warehouses and processing plants—productive wealth and resources we need so badly—are burning up through the inattention, carelessness, recklessness and relaxation of vigilance that follows war.

When the people know the facts, they will substitute watchfulness for carelessness, caution for recklessness and the "I don't care" attitude for the kind of spirit that won the war—for this widespread national waste is the concern of all the people. The low rate of fire waste in cantonments and installations of the armed services, and in inspected munitions factories, shows what the people are capable of doing by united effort toward caution and watchfulness, if they know the dangers and have the will to do it. Our need today, and tomorrow, is to save what we have in this time of shortages—for ourselves and for those unfortunate in broken, burned out lands who look to us for life itself. But the immediate need is for all of us to tell the public the facts.

If every citizen and home owner in Newton will earnestly do their part in eliminating all fire hazards in their home and place of business, it will greatly help. Don't put it off, do it NOW—to-morrow may be too late."

NOMINATE
PERLIE DYAR CHASE

LAWYER - LEGISLATOR - COUNCILLOR

Excerpt from an Editorial in the Watertown Sun., June 7, 1946

. . . Perlle Dyar Chase, Back Bay Republican, who seeks the G. O. P. nomination for member of the Executive Council from the Third District . . . is the same Chase who, as a member of the Boston City Council, was instrumental in driving the Beano racket out of Boston, thereby pointing the way for the Commonwealth. Right now, he has turned his guns on James Michael Curley and advocates ousting him from the mayor's chair.

As a member of the lower branch of the General Court his record is good and he is referred to as one Legislator who always knows what is going on atop Beacon Hill.

Chase takes seriously any oath of office to which he has subscribed. He is a fighter with remarkable tenacity of purpose, though not a rabid crusader. He is the type of public servant that opponents have found must not be sold short.

Diplomas Awarded to 719 H.S. Students at Graduation Exercises

Dickinson Stadium Scene of Colorful Ceremonies

The Newton High School graduation exercises were held Saturday evening in the Newton High School Stadium with 719 students receiving their diplomas.

Before the graduates entered the stadium a musical program was presented by the Newton High School Band under the direction of Wesley S. Merritt and J. Collins Lingo. Following the Processional song by the graduating class, the invocation was offered by Rev. William Elmer Blake of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton.

Presentation of the class gift was made by Robert Bernard Scanlon, president of the class. Announcement of the Meserve Scholarship was made by Julius Walter Kohler of the class of 1923. Raymond A. Green, principal of the High School announced the awards and prizes and presented the senior cups.

Mayor Paul M. Gaddard presented the diplomas and certificates assisted by David W. Tibbitt, chairman of the school committee and Dr. Homer W. Anderson, superintendent of schools.

Henry S. C. Cummings, a member of the National Honor Society was awarded the Meserve Scholarship. The senior cups were awarded to Beverly Anne Johnson and Champe Andrews Fisher, also members of the National Honor Society. The Dickinson Memorial Cup was awarded to Robert Bernard Scanlon, class president.

A pageant entitled "Strong as a Bird on Pinions Free" which depicted belief in America and in the United Nations was spoken by members of the graduating class and sung by the Glee Club with instrumental music by the High School orchestra.

The Lieutenant Stafford Leighton Brown Memorial Scholarships were awarded to the following:

Brown Spots On Your Lawn

By O. O. CLAPPER

A brown spot on your lawn is usually visual evidence of dead grass but not always will the grass be dead.

Here are some of the causes of brown spots. Too much fertilizer, that is a highly concentrated chemical type will cause a burn but usually it will come back if watered soon enough. Excess drought will cause the grass to turn brown but this will usually respond to rain or artificial watering and promptly return to its green color. Two other causes might be termed disease or insects. Recovery here is somewhat more complicated.

You have heard the golfing neighbor speak of "brown patch" on the putting greens and right away you think this is what is wrong with your lawn. The chances are that you are wrong for this disease seldom hits a lawn unless it be seeded to the finer texture grasses such as those used on putting greens. The remedy is to treat with either a mercury salt or some other preparation for this special use. Your chances of having this "brown patch" are very slim so don't worry over that. The most common cause in recent years has been from infestation of insects. These might be chinch bugs, Japanese or May beetle grubs. Chinch bugs are tiny insects which can be found at the heat of the day just below the surface of the soil. Spread the grass by sucking the juices rather than eating the grass itself. The remedy is to kill the bugs. Several preparations can be used but the quickest and latest is to dust the lawn with 10% DDT or SABIDILLA dust. Working this well into the grass. There may be two or even three broods in one season and it may be necessary to treat for each brood. The time to start is when you see these brown spots growing larger each day for unless you get control of the bugs they will take possession of your lawn and a rebuilding job will be necessary this fall.

The grub of the May or June beetle or the Japanese beetle will be found about one inch under the surface. They eat away at the roots and many times will shear every one so the sod can be lifted by the grass just like it was a scatter rug. The temporary remedy is to water quickly and plenty in hopes that you may help the surviving grass roots to take hold and heal the injury. The remedy is to treat the lawn with arsenate of lead. This is usually applied at rates from 5 to 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet of lawn. It being difficult to evenly spread so small an amount a carrier such as sand, loam or Milorganite is often used. The use of fertilizer will provide food for the plants if they can survive the desiccating. One application should suffice for from three to five years. This treatment even before you know of infestation is good insurance and might ward off an attack of the Jap. beetle which is one of the real problems not too far south and west of Newton. Traps can be had to catch the beetles which will save your shrub foliage.

Remember that your local seedman knows most of the answers to your turf problems. Consult him freely. His desire is to help you have a better lawn and to make Newton the "Garden City". Unless special requests are received for more articles this is the last of this series until fall when we will print one having to do with fall fertilization and seeding of lawns.

Edison Co. Reports Newton Is Hardest Hit By Storm

Two days following the severe electrical and wind storm of last Saturday night, Boston Edison Company reported that, except for street lighting, service was practically normal throughout the 40 cities and towns served by its power lines. Interruptions to electric service were more widespread in the shaded streets of residential areas where many trees at the peak of their foliage were brought down on service wires by the gusty winds.

From the hour the storm broke, Edison emergency crews, augmented on Sunday and Monday by maintenance crews loaned by other companies from Providence, New Bedford, Worcester, Cambridge, Salem and Malden, made rapid progress in clearing the debris and replacing broken secondary wires and tap lines to residences.

When the destructive storm hit, 86 of a total of 216 commercial circuits serving approximately 100,000 customers were affected. Although damage in numerous communities was severe, the hardest hit on the Edison system was the city of Newton. Street lighting circuits with a few exceptions were operative throughout the area by Tuesday night.

Alice McLaughlin An Appreciation

The many pupils and friends of Miss Alice McLaughlin learned with sorrow and deep regret of the sudden passing at her home on Monday, June 3, of one who had devoted her life to music and to the training and guidance of youth.

Miss McLaughlin, a flutist of wide renown throughout New England, came to the All Newton Music School several years ago as teacher of the flute. She was steadfast in her support of the high ideals for which the school has always stood, adding a large measure of devotion to its work and to her teaching, which endeared her to all who had the opportunity of knowing her or studying with her. She was not only an outstanding musician—she was an educator in the real sense of the word, always keeping young in spirit and in kindly understanding; yet never wavering in her strong convictions of truth or in her efforts to point the way of life at its best and highest to all who came under her influence.

Words can only fail to pay proper tribute to such a spirit as was that of Miss McLaughlin. Though she has passed on, in the days that lie ahead, the memory of her devotion to duty and to the daily tasks of life as they came her way, will live on in the hearts and lives of her pupils and friends. To have known and loved her will be looked upon as a blessing and as a rare and lasting privilege by those who called her teacher, co-worker, and friend.

Michael Connolly

Funeral services for Michael Connolly of 204 Crafts street, Newtonville, were held from his home on Saturday morning. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated in the Church of Our Lady by Rev. James Redding of St. Sebastian's Country Day School, assisted by Rev. Daniel J. Taglino as deacon and Rev. John H. Quinlan as sub-deacon. Rev. Patrick Dowd, pastor of St. Mary's Church, Wakefield and Rev. Raymond Burke were seated in the sanctuary. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham with prayers by Rev. Arthur I. Norton.

Mr. Connolly died on Wednesday, June 5. He was in his 81st year. Born in Ireland, the son of Dennis and Bridget (Greeley) Connolly, he had resided in Newton for 50 years. He was a member of St. Bernard's Court, M. C. O. F.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Catherine (Lahey) Connolly, three daughters, Mrs. Catherine Shannon of Waltham, Mrs. Mary B. Ellis of Clifton, N. J., and Mrs. Helen DeCoste of Newtonville, and three sons, Edward A. of Westfield, James and Francis Connolly of Newtonville.

GOOD DEAL is the smart new way of buying citrus fruits by the pound 'stead of by bag or dozen! You pay for the juice you buy oranges for when you buy oranges by the pound. Tests show that Florida's big, juicy oranges yield at least two luscious quarts of orange juice for every 10 pounds of oranges!

We of Massachusetts Hear Col. DiManno At Meeting Monday

A lively meeting was held last Monday evening by the group which was organized in Ward 3, Precinct 1, through Harry Johnson, at the Fessenden Gymnasium. The group was addressed by Col. Daniel G. DiManno who has behind him five years of Military Service and recently returned from Japan. Colonel DiManno told of his impressions gathered and the feelings created by the conditions as he found them upon returning to the shores of the United States. He found that he was not alone in such thoughts, and that there is a growing feeling among the citizenry of Newton, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the whole country, that the rocking situations in politics no longer can be ignored. For that reason he himself became interested in this organization "WE OF MASSACHUSETTS" with headquarters at 8 Beacon street, Boston, which he explained had been formed to bring together people of all political faiths, who were interested in better government by improving the qualities of leadership. He informed those present that the organization was neither a Republican nor a Democrat organization, and that its membership and personnel comprise Republicans, Democrats and Independents, and that the organization is still in its infancy and just about now getting really underway.

If the meeting of Monday night is the forerunner of the

Lee Speaker at 'Y' Men's Club Meeting

The Y's Men's Club of the Newton Y.M.C.A. was addressed at their last meeting by Mr. Richard H. Lee, who spoke on the significance of Memorial Day for veterans of World War II. many scheduled to come not only in Newton, but in all parts of the Commonwealth, you can expect ACTION and plenty of it. The open session that followed was anything but dull, and the Colonel had to meet an unexpected barrage of queries and questions. Newton could well be proud of having such fine citizens within its bounds. It gives one a warm glow to find that the healthy, rugged spirit of our colonial days though dormant is not extinct, and that with the war out of the way, our voters are going to busy themselves very much with what's what, why's why and who's who in Politics. "Their sincerity was obvious, and the manner in which the Colonel met the re of their questioning left no doubt whatsoever as to his sincerity and belief in the organization. That is why, he stated, he accepted the responsibility of being the General Operations Manager of "WE OF MASSACHUSETTS" and is starting an all out drive for membership in the organization.

LOOK WHAT YOU CAN GET for only

$3,000.00 STRAIGHT LIFE INSURANCE DEATH BENEFIT (CASH VALUE $360.30)
$736.59 CASH SAVINGS! (PLUS INTEREST)

Under our new "packaged savings" plan, one simple monthly payment continued for ten years, will provide both substantial cash savings and the life insurance protection that every family needs.

It's simplicity itself! All you have to do is decide how much you can afford to deposit monthly, bring it in to the bank (or mail, if more convenient) and we will divide it between cash savings and insurance in whatever proportions best suit your particular needs.

This example shows what can be accomplished with a regular deposit of only $10.00 a month for ten years (at age 30). Other "packaged savings" plans may be worked out for a larger—or smaller—monthly deposit; for a longer or shorter period than ten years; for paid-up life insurance or an endowment policy, instead of straight life insurance. The plan is completely flexible—may be tailored to fit your needs!

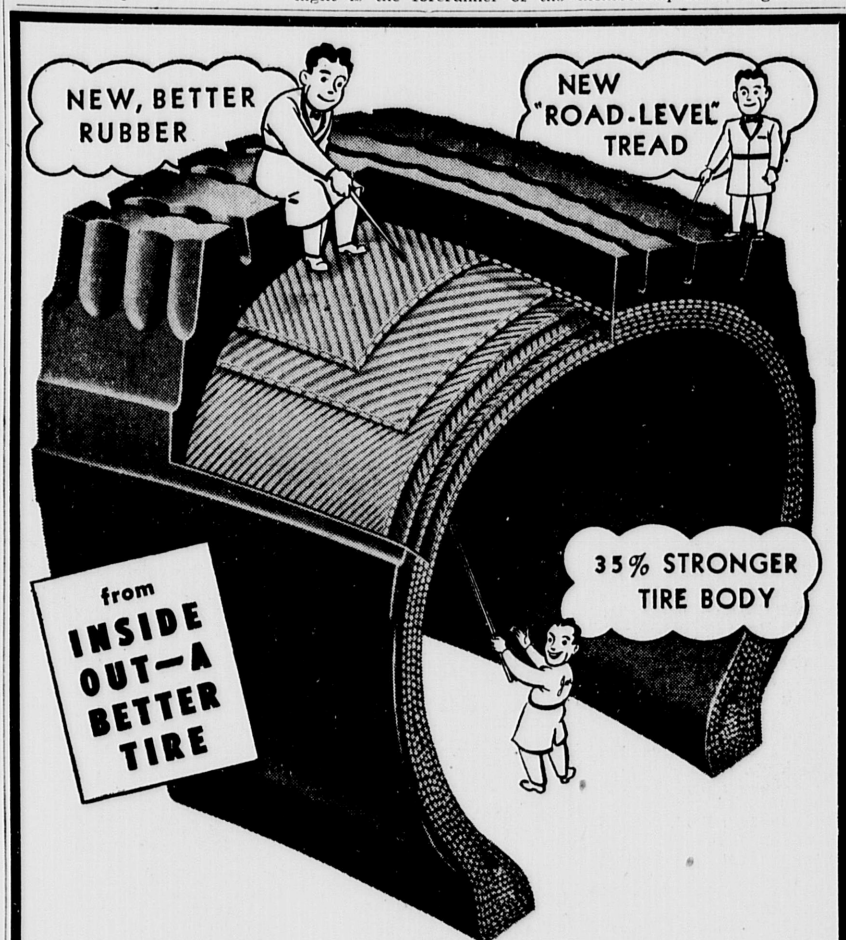

It's easy to understand, too—but because it is different, there may be questions you'll want to ask. "Must I continue the plan for the full ten years?" (No, you may stop at any time) "Do I get interest on my savings deposits?" (Yes, at our current rates) "May I make weekly instead of monthly deposits?" (Yes, plans may be arranged for as little as $1 a week), etc., etc.

To answer these and other questions, a new booklet has been prepared. Stop in or write for it now, so you can get started on this streamlined "packaged savings" program today.

Elwood C. Zimmerman, Systematic Entomologist of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Experiment Station at Honolulu, T. H., and curator of entomology of the Bishop Museum at Honolulu, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday, June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman who make their home in Honolulu are guests of Mrs. Zimmerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Bond of 24 Oxford road, Newton Centre.

Hospital Fund Total Now Over $1,532,774; Success of Campaign Assured Belief of Chairman

The civic enterprise which pushed Newton-Wellesley Hospital's building fund to a total of $1,532,774 at the fourth report meeting of the public phase of the campaign in the High School Wednesday night will insure eventual completion of the $2,250,000 project for enlargement and modernization of the hospital, Neil Leary, general chairman of the building fund committee, re-emphasized today.

Sounding a note of optimism that the fund will succeed and that the hospital expansion will proceed substantially as planned, Mr. Leary told more than 800 team workers at the dinner: "The momentum started in this public campaign and the continuing work of special committees which have been active during the past year will roll the fund to its goal."

The public stage of the entire campaign will continue until June 28, he said, in order that many prospective subscribers who have not yet been approached may have an opportunity to contribute.

To the grand total of 4,193 subscriptions amounting to $1,325,943 previously reported were (Continued on Page 6)

Newton's Streets

For years taxpayers have been stating their willingness to pay for improved streets. The problem, one of an area greater than Cambridge, Somerville and Watertown combined, during war time involved a scarcity of materials, equipment and labor. Mechanical equipment today is as rare as are new automobiles, and the young unemployed are not accepting work in this department. The present-day problems of industry and business apply to municipal government as well. Many employees of this department have contributed long years of faithful service. The modern contractor employs younger men and war-time, labor-saving equipment, while the City force is more mature and operates with a more conservative equipment outfit.

Occasional comments within and without the City cause rising eyebrows when the subject of recent Grand Jury action is mentioned. The situation was reviewed by higher authorities and above local levels. The investigation was started at the request of Newton which obviously illustrated the City's insistence on maintenance of sound conditions, and removes the smirch which toleration of irregular situations, sometimes known and never corrected, might leave.

Many people have understood that the City was to be favored by the regular services of an appointed City Planning Expert, plus the advantage of expert, modern advice regarding new equipment to assist in satisfying the taxpayers' demands.

Following the trend of appropriations, a more ambitious program for alleviation of past dissatisfaction with streets appears under way.

Petition For Change In Zoning At Oak Hill District

Arnold Hartman, real estate developer, argued at a hearing in City Hall last Friday, the 14th, in favor of his petitions to change zoning of some of his land on and near Baldpate Hill in the Oak Hill District, off Brookline street, from its present A and B zoning to B and C zoning. The hearing was held by the Planning Board and by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Hartman said he had necessary materials, labor and priorities for one hundred GI houses and urged the change on the ground that it would permit him to put up houses for veterans. Representatives of veteran organizations endorsed the petitions, stating that there were sixty-five critical cases of Newton veterans in immediate need of homes.

Speaking for Ernest B. Freeman, George Mitton, Captain Earl Major, and himself, James W. Spring, Esquire, of Dudley road, opposing the petitions, urged that the whole question be considered without emotion and on its merits as a zoning problem.

Representing the Oak Hill District Improvement Association, which had been criticized as a "pressure group," its President, Henry W. Keyes, Esquire, local attorney, also opposed granting the petitions. Keyes rejoined that the general public had a right to organization. He pointed out the importance to the City of developing its only remaining undeveloped area in accordance with sound planning previously relied on by residents, said the proposed C zone would be artificial and undesirable in shape and location, and urged that the present zoning plans be not changed from time to time, but enforced.

Turning to the law governing changes of zoning, Keyes reminded the Committee and the Board that Mr. Hartman as trustee owned all the land involved, and called their attention to certain decisions of the Supreme Judicial Court.

Keyes insisted that it would be no favor to a veteran to compel him to live on a lot as small as 7500 square feet. Amplifying this statement later, Keyes said he wanted veterans not only to come to Oak Hill, but to stay, and feared that they would soon move away if the zones were changed to provide for smaller lots. The general issue, he maintained, is whether the City is going to follow a good plan, which is adequate for current needs, and the issue as to veterans is whether they are going to be handed temporary expedients or permanent homes.

State Senate Contest

Unless there is an error in the first compilation of the vote in the Middlesex-Suffolk district in the State Senate, or unless a possible recount upsets the original tabulation, we have just witnessed one of the most startling political upsets the Garden City has provided within the memory of this observer. The victory of former Alderman Richard H. Lee over former Representative Loomis Patrick was won by a very slim margin, to be sure. In Newton the vote was so close that it was almost a tie, although Lee had the edge. It appears to have been the vote in the two wards located outside of Newton, namely Ward 5 in Cambridge and Ward 22 in Boston, which furnished Lee his real margin of victory. It is still too early, (Wednesday morning) to attempt to analyze the factors which enabled Lee to do so well outside of his home territory. Ordinarily, the vote in Newton is so substantial and the eventual winner has such a heavy margin, that it is relatively unimportant what happens in the Cambridge and the Brighton wards. Not so this year, however. Perhaps Lee put on a very heavy campaign in the outside territory, figuring that Patrick would run well ahead of him in Newton.

Now, how account for the Newton vote, especially in view of the fact that Loomis Patrick had all those supposedly influential names of leading citizens tucked in his vest-pocket from the moment he launched his campaign, many, many weeks ago? Can it be that the day is gradually dawning when two candidates are going to have to meet face to face or at least slug it out toe to toe, metaphorically speaking? Is there no longer any magic in a top-heavy list of distinguished endorsees? Maybe so. After all, what objection can any one have to seeing a man-to-man fight with Marquis of Queensbury rules governing the contest? Up until now, the average political candidate has started his campaign with a handicap amounting to being placed ten yards behind scratch in a hundred yard dash. That is a very tough handicap, if you ask me. Perhaps from now on it will be necessary for a candidate to experience blood, sweat and tears before he wins his victory.

There is, of course, one other explanation which occurs to me. The Newton vote was a shade over 17 percent of the total registered vote, which is 37,574. That means that only 6,399 men and women of both parties took the time and trouble to do their duty as good citizens. I think I suggested some weeks ago that Patrick's only danger would come from a relatively heavy vote. It now appears that an abnormally light vote would be equally dangerous to Patrick.

Next week I shall hope to have some additional comment of interest to my readers. In the meantime, I offer my congratulations to Richard H. Lee, the winner of this contest, who certainly fought a hard fight against stiff odds. I also extend my best wishes to Loomis Patrick, who would undoubtedly have triumphed over a less worthy and aggressive opponent. As I have previously said in this space, I sincerely wish that it had been possible for me to support, officially, both of these men. Newton may well be proud of them. Both men, in my humble opinion, are destined to serve usefully in future years.

Other Primary Results

There were no upsets in the G.O.P. contests on the state ticket. There are, to be sure, quite a few people whom I know who feel that the younger man in the contest for Lieutenant Governor, Mayor or Cole of Lynn, should have prevailed. However, the magic of the Coolidge name plus the support given him by the regular Republicans throughout the state were two factors which the progressive Mayor could not overcome, especially in a light vote.

Curtis won over Burrell, as he should have, and the G.O.P. ticket is thereby greatly strengthened, even tho' Curtis went down to defeat in a previous election when he was up against another magic name, Hurley. This was certainly the correct verdict for the voters to render.

Wood defeated Stearns handsily. Here again was a natural victory for the best man. On the Democratic side, it is hard to see how the Tobin enthusiasts can cheer loudly over the victory of His Excellency over a relatively unknown man. The margin was rather unimpressive, also. It appears that Frankie Kelly has once more burdened the Democratic ticket with his name, as the candidate for Attorney-General. He will most certainly do nothing to add strength to the Democratic ticket.

One of the most interesting victories was that of young Kennedy, son of the former British Ambassador, in the race for Congress in James M. Curley's district. Nomination here is the same as election. Here we have an up-and-coming war veteran about to go to Washington to show the old-timers how government should be run. Good-luck, young man.

How I HELPED MY HUSBAND SAVE MONEY ON HIS $5000.00 LIFE INSURANCE

John was looking over the rates offered by several different life insurance companies, when I brought home a booklet on Savings Bank Life Insurance. "Best thing you ever did!" he told me, after figuring what we could save each year by buying insurance "over the counter".

You see, this way, the cost is naturally less! The $110.95* yearly premium we pay for $5000.00 of Savings Bank Life Insurance—would only buy $4000.00 in another company, and only $3950.00 in still a third. John also found that we could pay our premiums annually, semi-annually or even monthly.

Why don't you compare costs and terms, too, before buying? Policies are available in amounts from $250.00 to $25,000. Just ask your local Savings Bank for details.

Dear Sirs: Please send me, without obligation, the following information: I am _____ years old. How much will $5000 worth of life insurance protection cost me?

To the Editor, Newton Graphic:

Opinions may differ as to whether labor or the employers won the coal and train strikes, but of one thing we can be dead sure—the people of Newton were the real losers. And, as a natural corollary, the Boston & Albany Railroad was the big winner.

How? It's very simple. Using the temporary cessation of service as a convenient cloak, the B. & A. has succeeded in putting over on the gentle Newton public a beautiful piece of chicanery.

Whether or not the Boston & Albany will be awarded higher rates by a contrite Government, thereby securing confiscation for the higher wages now to be paid, is of course an unanswered question. But the astute men who run the road are not taking any chances. They are already meeting higher wage expenses by reducing operating costs—and in the manner of it lies a story of arrogant disregard of the commuting public.

Let's trace the steps of this wily maneuver. When the coal strike was declared, the B. & A. radically curtailed service by eliminating many important trains. This action was admittedly ascribed to the necessity of conserving dwindling stores of coal. But, possibly owing to some temporary aberration in the general offices, the remaining trains were actually lengthened, as if the railroad desired to make an honest effort to carry its patrons comfortably. Probably some clerk got the devil for this altruistic but costly gesture, since it led the ingenious public to believe that its interests would be looked out for under all circumstances.

But what happened when the strikes were over? Were the discontinued trains restored as soon as ample stores of fuel could be used? No, they were deadlier than a doornail—and so far as anyone knows, from now on.

"But of course," you will say, "the B. & A., while running fewer trains, continued, as during the strike, to put more coaches on the remaining trains. Seating capacity no doubt remains as high as ever."

Unfortunately, that would be jumping at conclusions. The number of coaches was once more cut down to the pre-strike quota, so that now there is considerable crowding on the remaining trains. By the time the abbreviated 8:32 (D.S.T.) from West Newton reaches Faneuil there are standees in the aisles.

The diminution of service was also accompanied by arbitrary shifting of times. The 6:20 p.m. (D.S.T.) from Boston was shifted to 6:12, so that the unfortunate Newtonite who misses the 6:12 (and these are busy times which keep many working late at offices) must wait 78 minutes for the 7:30.

Does the B. & A. ever seek public opinion about such reductions and changes? Does it ever try to clean up the "smoker" signs in the end windows of cars so that they can be seen without danger of strabismus? Did the road ever consider putting in some sort of ventilation or even one simple electric fan in each car in hot weather to alleviate the 105-degree temperatures in afternoon trains leaving Boston?

The City of Newton is an up-and-coming community. It gains 5000 to 10,000 people each five years. A chart showing population and train service would present a strange anomaly. The population line, year by year, goes up. The train service line goes down and down. Is the B.

Appeal for Materials

The thoughtfulness and generosity of many house-keepers in Newton for many years encourages us to again ask for leftover materials. Odds and ends gathered during the year such as spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, embroidery materials and woolen articles are greatly welcomed. The response to this plea has always been generous and the materials donated have helped to keep many hundreds of little children busy and happy during the summer vacation.

If you have a donation, the Recreation Department will call for it at your home by appointment. Call Recreation Department, Bigelow 4700.

& A. planning to convert to horse and buggy transit one of these days? And will the Newton public stand for it? Yes, the dear old Newtonite will stand for anything.

Yours truly,
Leonard Monzert.

To the Editor:

Your note in the last issue of the Newton Graphic about the Fourth of July celebration at Newton Centre sponsored by the Newton Centre Improvement Association is a reminder of former days. Then there used to be a very beautiful fire works display at Crystal Lake, which many people came to enjoy. The money to pay for the fire works was contributed by the people after collections were made by the committee by personal solicitation. Now there is a personal appeal to the members and friends of the association.

Such a celebration gives the general public something to see and be interested in that helps preserve the morale of the community. If people visit Crystal Lake they will see it the highest it has been for years. It is beautiful.

College Students May Secure Loans From the D.A.R.

When college students, young men or young women, are having difficulty in meeting the cost of their education, it is interesting to note that they may procure assistance from the Student Loan Fund of the Massachusetts Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

This fund was established 15 years ago and is being increased annually by contributions from the 102 chapters in Massachusetts.

Application for a loan from this fund should be made through the Regent of the Lydia Partridge Whiting chapter, Mrs. Harold F. Le Fayette, 21 Hinkley road, Waban, Mass., or Mrs. Charles R. Joy, 10 Kingston road, Newton Highlands, Mass., chapter chairman of this committee. To be eligible for a loan, a student must have completed successfully at least one year at college. First year students are not eligible.

Loans are granted to students of any race or creed. An applicant does not have to be a relative of a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, nor does the applicant have to be eligible for membership in the society.

No interest whatsoever is charged on any loan from the time loan is granted until the student has been graduated from college one year.

At that time, interest begins at the rate of two per cent, advances to four per cent the following year and to six per cent the next year, at which rate it remains until loan has been repaid in full.

College students who are preparing to meet intelligently the future needs of America, may procure assistance in financing their education from this Student Loan Fund of the Massachusetts Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Leisure Time Activities Available For Newton Youngsters

On Friday, June 21, more than 11,000 Newton boys and girls will toss aside their school books and leave classrooms behind for another summer vacation. Many parents have already made plans for their sons and daughters for these weeks. Perhaps some of you, however, are still looking for suggestions.

The Information Service Committee of the Newton Community Council has prepared and presents below a partial list of leisure-time activities available for our Newton youngsters. Some of them will enjoy camping; others have an urge to catch up on some back studying; still others are looking forward to the free hours to further some hobby, such as music. Or perhaps the family is looking for a near-by place to enjoy a day outdoors together—some place where there is something of interest for every member of the family, such as at Riverside, Norumbega Park or one of the four playgrounds on which there is a fireplace for cooking out.

The Community Council has included primarily the services of the Red Feather Agencies, Public Departments and non-profit private organizations. More detailed information may be obtained on all of these activities by telephoning the numbers listed.

There are a number of church organizations and Greater Boston agencies conducting camps to which Newton children are also eligible.

Additional help in finding a suitable day or boarding camp for your child may be obtained from the following sources:

50th Anniversary Of Class of 1896

The Class of 1896, N. H. S., which was graduated fifty years ago, held a Reunion on June 15, 1946 at the Y.M.C.A. in Newton.

This was a class of ninety-six members, the last one to be in the old wooden building which that summer was torn down and replaced by the present building standing between Russell Court and Elm road. There were fifty-six classmates, relatives and friends who gathered between five and six o'clock to register and renew acquaintance, thirty-seven of the number being members of the class. From Detroit, Mich., came the Class President, Harold W. Burdon, who presided. The guests of honor were Miss Martha M. Dip, who was teaching art in the High School at that time, and Mr. Raymond A. Green, Principal of N.H.S. today, and his wife. Members of the Class came from New Hampshire, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; from places in Massachusetts at some distance as well as from the Newtons and Greater Boston.

A photograph of the group was taken by Luther Wormwood, a member of the Class, and then a delicious dinner was served in the hall up stairs by the Colgate Catering Co. of Somerville, Mass. After the tables were cleared Mrs. Alice (Bond) Andrews, chairman of the Reunion Committee, welcomed the classmates and friends and turned the program over to the president of the Class, Harold Burdon. He called upon several members of the class to speak informally. Mrs. Rebecca (Edmonds) Kendall, William P. Wise, William H. Anders, Walter Kattelle, Miss Frances Jones and Miss Marion Drew Bassett. Then Mr. Raymond A. Green spoke of the present situation in Newton High School comparing the large numbers and the conditions under which our young people are educated today. The Class Ode written by Mrs. Margaret (Wardwell) Cleveland was sung by the group, Miss Mary Barbour at the piano, and then, standing, each clasping the hands of his neighbors, Auld Lang Syne brought the Reunion to a close.

BECAUSE THERE'S ALWAYS A SNOWSTORM IN OUR FUTURE...

A Summer Offense is the best Winter Defense

You may be picking June flowers, but right now we're thinking of next winter's blizzards! Here at the "EL", we have to be pessimists; we have to think of June as only six months away from next winter's snowstorms. To help us do an efficient snow removal job, for you and your community, we've bought 12 more of the most modern and powerful snow-fighters yet developed for our type of work. And we know they'll be well worth every penny they cost. Back in 1920 the "EL" spent $615,549 removing 77 inches of snow; in 1945 we got rid of 80 inches for $627,426 despite tremendously increased cost of materials and man power. How do we do it? By constantly striving to increase the efficiency of our snow-fighting equipment. And next winter, with a fleet of 85 modern snowplows in action, we'll be able to do an even better job of snow removal... be even more sure of getting you to work during the coming winter! That's why we're starting our winter offense now!

BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY

BOY OH BOY! TALK ABOUT POWER! BET SHE'LL PLOW THROUGH DRIFTS IN NOTHING FLAT!

GEE WHIZ NOW I WON'T BE ABLE TO USE MY SLED ON THE STREETS NEXT WINTER!

THESE NEW SNOWPLOWES WILL SURE HELP THE 'EL' DO AN EVEN BETTER JOB IN KEEPING THE LINES CLEAR!

Frank A. Day Junior High School

The D-Day collection of canned goods totaled 304 cans and packages. This was a fine response in view of the fact that the Drive lasted for one day only.

The last issue of the Day-tonian was released last Friday under the supervision of Mr. Cowles of the faculty. It carried a complete account of the last 9th Grade assembly.

For the Farewell Assembly on Friday, June 14, the Ninth Grade Drama Elective Group presented an original skit entitled "A Day in Court." The chairman was Marion Burke. The cast included: Jean Atkinson, Janet Powell, Greta Soyland, Anne Shriberg, Mary Jean Carter, Carol DeVeau, David Cravatts, Philip Kerrian, Frank Capadanno, David Cravatts, Edward Parsons, Janet House, Gloria Antonellis, Sally Anne Lord, Eva Geiringer and Nancy Shea.

At the assembly attention was focused upon the departing

Ninth Grade. This program cleverly revealed the talent which exists in these students. Also, at the time, the Class Will was read by Joan Chase. Douglas Duff presented the Class Gift to Mr. Burkhard after which President Duff turned over "the keys" to Frank Lord, president of the Eighth Grade.

The following pupils are being congratulated upon their perfect attendance this closing school year: Grade 7, Donald Shaw, Blanche Berni, Gladys Harrison, Grade 8, Edward Murphy; Grade 9, Bradford Chase, Vincent Cuccchi, Marie Antonellis, Eleanor DiDuca, Domenica Visco.

How can I remove rust stains from the chrome legs of my kitchen table?

Remove the rust with kerosene and a soft cloth, then polish with a non-abrasive scouring powder. There is no way of covering the spots which have rusted but a coat of clear shellac will prevent further rusting.

In the women's division, Mrs. Clarence Cheney of Worcester easily took first prize with her total score 1000. Miss Thelma Phillips of Newton second, score 837. Mrs. Anita Haworth, Newton club, placed third, score 760.

A range prize for the best score of 60 yards was awarded Mrs. Kenneth Simonds, Newton; 50 yards, Mrs. Bertram Harrison; 40 yards, Miss Dorothy Stevens. In the men's division: 60 yards, Eugene Small, Waltham; 50 yards, Clarence Cheney, Worcester; 40 yards, Clarence Brown, Swampscott.

An outstanding event of the day took place when Mr. Chas. E. Fish of Waltham shot a perfect end of 6 arrows into the bullseye at 50 yards. He will receive a special award from the National Archery Association for this feat.

Rotary Club

Speaking on "World Government" at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Friday, June 14, Alexander Standish, president of Standish, Ayer and McKay, investment counsel, stated that modern warfare results in destruction of civilized populations as well as military groups. "The use of long range radio control, buzz bombs, rockets, gas, and bacterial bombs and atomic bombs on civilized populations should make us realize that any future warfare must be avoided by careful planning and by world wide cooperative efforts. This is a year of decision, the United States must now make a choice as to the policy it will follow as a nation."

1. We could develop a strong national policy of semi-isolationism.

2. We could follow the militaristic policy but this would involve the establishment of a world wide intelligence and espionage system, universal military training, and heavy armament to give us control of the air and seaways of the world.

3. Mr. Standish believes our only safe and sensible course would be to unite with other nations in a world government in which peace and enforcement of world law would be maintained by an international police force.

He feels that the American people are now ready for the establishment of a world government and we should make known our decision to our Representatives in Congress and ought to get action. Each of us can express his opinion on the ballot in this year's election.

In the first World War the speaker served as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Infantry; and in World War II as an Intelligence Officer in Anti-Submarine and ETO London; from August, 1943 to February, 1944, Chief of Intelligence Branch of the 12th Army Division under General Bradley, in France, Luxembourg, Belgium and Germany. Entering as a Captain and came out as a Colonel.

Hospital—

added 4,170 new contributions for a total of $206,831 announced at last night's dinner by public campaign leaders and the memorial gifts committee. In the public campaign there were 2,570 additional subscriptions from Newton for a total of $84,280 and 1,540 from Wellesley for $51,146. Sixty new memorial gifts amounted to $71,395.

Speaking for the committee on corporation subscriptions and the memorial gifts committee, Mr. Leonard reported that many prospective subscriptions had not as yet come to a head. "There are a good many factors in the next few months which will bring us within reach of success," he predicted.

Deploing the tendency of a great many people to refuse to pledge funds because of a sense of "prudence," Mr. Leonard remarked: "I want some of these people to forget themselves into immortality by taking memorials in our new hospital."

Paraphrasing lines from a memorable speech by Winston Churchill in England's most desperate hour, Mr. Leonard said: "I am not willing that my generation shall yield to any prior generation in Newton and Wellesley in the meeting of civic responsibilities. If we are willing to brace ourselves to the truly important task remaining to be finished, then future generations in these communities can say, 'This was their finest hour.'"

Paul T. Rabson, general chairman for Wellesley of the campaign, in turn assured the audience that Wellesley will finish its job.

Pledging his continued support to the building fund movement until the objective is reached, Israel Friedlander, a member of the memorial gifts committee and a trustee of the hospital, commented that two phases of the work—the preliminary organization and public campaign periods—already have been completed, but a third phase is just beginning. During this third stage of the campaign, he said, the memorial gifts committee and the committee on corporation subscriptions, must complete important assignments still outstanding, and in addition, the cards of all prospective subscribers in the public campaign must be covered.

"Newton and Wellesley raised more than $1,000,000 for the enlargement of their hospital in 1926 when the population was only two-thirds as great and when personal wealth was not so well distributed. If $1,000,000 was raised twenty years ago, then we can raise $2,500,000 today," he concluded.

Clifford H. Walker, president of the hospital's board of trustees, expressed his appreciation and that of the board to all volunteer workers and members of special committees for "their untiring efforts in behalf of the fund." He also thanked various groups and organizations for their aid, and paid tribute to the cooperation shown by the Newton Graphic and other newspapers.

A breakdown of all subscriptions secured by team workers during the period of the public campaign which began two weeks ago shows 7,767 contributions amounting to $290,295. Included are 5,484 subscriptions from Newton totalling $205,223 and 2,283 contributions from Wellesley amounting to $85,072.

NEWTON FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

Summer vacations are fast approaching. By observing a few simple rules and regulations thousands of acres of forest lands can be preserved which in turn will give us a more beautiful scenic country for recreation. Carefulness and consideration of our fellow citizens will save many lives, homes and dollars in taxes that are required each year to pay for fighting forest fires. Most of these fires are caused by our own carelessness.

Some of the most common causes of forest fires are the careless disposal of cigars, cigarettes, hot ashes from pipes and leaving burning embers when passing through or when camping in Woodlands. Hot embers when fanned by a light breeze can soon be whipped into a roaring inferno that taxes all of man's ingenuity to suppress. All of these fires can be prevented by using common sense on our part while in the woods.

Section 54 of the Mass. General Laws, Chapter 148 is as follows and should be remembered while in the woods.

"Whoever drops or throws from any vehicle while the same is upon a public or private way running along or near forest land, or except as permitted by law, drops, throws, deposits or otherwise places in or upon forest land, any lighted cigarette, cigar, match, live ashes or other flaming or glowing substance or thing which in and of itself is likely to cause a fire, shall be punished by a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars."

Be sure to secure a permit from the Fire Warden where a permit is required for a fire in the open and follow his instructions. When you do have a small fire to cook a meal, do it on ground that is clear of dried vegetation and so that sparks will not be blown into burnable materials. Make a suitable fire place or dig a hole in the ground for the fire so that you can control it and so that it can be extinguished in a hurry if necessary.

Never leave a fire in the open unattended. When you have finished with the fire see that all evidence of the fire is dead, that hot stones or other materials used in the fireplace are not placed on or near combustible materials. Do not take partly burned logs and place them on dry grass or leaves. Leave them in the fireplace, as they might have a smouldering ember that you have not noticed. Either extinguish the fire with an adequate amount of water if it is available, or cover it over with a sufficient amount of dirt or sand, making sure that there is no possible way for the fire to break out. Use both water and dirt if possible and be doubly sure.

With your help this unnecessary loss to our woodlands can be prevented. Let us start by keeping our wooded sections of Newton free and safe from fires.

Plan Campaign To Inform Veterans On Life Insurance

Flower Ideas for the June Bride

Adorn—but do not conceal—the wedding gown, is the rule for 1946 bride's bouquets designed by stylist Allyn Wayne of Florists' Telegraph. He illustrates this principle with the crescent-shaped example at right—blending pink camellias, dwarf elf roses and traditional lily of the valley. Well balanced and easy to carry, note absence of ribbon streamers—just small loops at center, enough to cover the bride's hands. At left; unusually colorful is this modern bridesmaid's bouquet of Gloriosa lilies, coral Gerba daisies and copper tulips.

Her bouquet combined white sweet peas and carnations. Miss Anna T. Greene of Newton, was the maid of honor. Her gown of pink lace was styled with a sweetheart neckline and her headress was a halo of shaded pink flowers which blended with bouquet of pink snapdragon and blue delphinium. Mrs. Dorr chose an aqua two piece dress, a white straw hat trimmed with aqua flowers, and a corsage of sweet heart roses. Fred E. Dorr, brother of the bride, was the best man for Mr. Clark.

Dining With Jane and Bill

Bill—Well, I certainly let off steam at the office today.
Jane—Gracious dear, what was the trouble?

Bill—I came back from lunch with a bundle of seeds for our garden. The fellows wanted to know if I was going to be a sucker and go in for victory gardening again this year.

Jane—To tell you the truth, I was wondering myself whether or not you were planning to have the garden again.

Bill—I did sort of put it off, but it's not a bit too late, and I feel that with all the hunger there must be in Europe that's certainly one way for us to do our part. Plenty of fresh garden corn, lima beans, and peas will help to fill us up and we can get along with less wheat products which are nonperishable and easy to ship.

Jane—So I suppose that's what you told the fellows at the office.

Bill—Yes, I did. I got a little hot under the collar and told them it was about time that we all began to take our international responsibilities a little more seriously. We are all too prone to sit back and take it easy and not think about anyone but ourselves.

Jane—Well, I feel the same way, Bill, and I'm glad you have decided to have a garden. I want to do a lot of canning. Junior got his homework done this afternoon, so I know he'll be glad to help you rake over the garden plot. I'll stop by the greenhouse and get a couple dozen tomato plants. I simply couldn't do without them!

What seeds did you buy?

Junior—Oh, Daddy, let me open the bundle; I want to see. Ah! Carrots, lettuce, squash, string beans, lima beans, corn . . .

Jane—No peas, Bill?

Bill—No, I thought it was a little too late for them but we can surely get everything else in plenty of time.

So You're A Veteran

As the sun rose over Beacon Hill on Saturday the 155th session of the Massachusetts Legislature prorogued, adjourned, called it a day . . . now let's check and see what they did about veterans' legislation . . . if you served overseas you will rate an additional bonus of $200 from the state and if you were in for leave the country you'll rate $100 six months or more and did not . . . don't spend it yet for the checks will not start your way until September 19th, the day the new regulations go into effect . . . if you have already filed for the bonus and have received your original bonus, sit without making another call on tight, you will get your check the bonus division . . . the additional bonus will be paid for out of taxes on cigarettes, liquor and corporations . . . the Legislature also approved the veterans college at Fort Devens . . . referred to a recess commission the proposal to create a $50,000,000 loan and set up a legislative recess fund for World War Two veterans commission which is going to investigate the housing shortage . . . speaking of housing the Legislature voted to permit cities and towns the right to finance partially the construction of temporary housing furnished by the Federal Government . . . it also okayed the taking of land and buildings by cities and towns in order to provide housing . . . and made mandatory the establishment of municipal or district Veterans Centers . . . it defeated the bill which would have set up a state lottery to finance the veterans bonus and old age assistance . . . the Legislature passed one or two labor bills of interest to veterans . . . one bill is intended to outlaw discrimination in employment based on race, color, creed, religion or national origin and set up a three-member commission to administer the Fair Employment Practice law . . . it also increased the maximum Unemployment Compensation to be paid in Massachusetts from $22 to $25 a week and added $2 for each dependent, provided the total benefits do not exceed the weekly wage.

There is another story about a sailor who cabled his best girl from Honolulu. His message read, "I love you. I love you. I love you." When he learned that he could have a tenth word without extra charge, he gave the matter a great deal of thought, and then added, "Regards."

The presence of a lot of cocky and hard-bitten American aviators in Russian bases had some strange effects on the earnest efforts of some Russians who were studying the English language. One Russian private approached an American colonel, gave him a snappy salute and exclaimed, "Good morning, jerk."

Hudson "Old - Timers" Meet The New

The old and the new—the model Twenty Hudson (right), first car ever built by this thirty-seven year old manufacturer, came off the production line in 1909. At the wheel of this old time car is one of the industry's outstanding "old-timers," John V. Machosky, oldest Hudson employee, who helped build the first and every other model that has ever been turned out by the company's large plant in Detroit. Contrasted with the original, the 1946 model (left), portrays graphically the progress that has been made in automobile design, engineering and styling. All played a leading part in the Golden Jubilee of the automotive industry, in Detroit, during the week ending June 9. In Newton the dealer for Hudson cars is Newton Hudson Motor Sales Inc., 321 Washington street, Newton Corner.

Rhinoplastic Surgeon Rebuilds Noses for Veterans at Hospital

Recently added to the staff of doctors at Veterans Administration Hospital, West Roxbury is a rhinoplastic surgeon to treat the many types of service connected nose injuries according to Dr. H. W. Baxley, manager. A former Army surgeon, Dr. A. H. Delman of Brookline and Boston is now rebuilding the depressed, twisted, and dislocated noses of greater Boston veterans.

With only local anesthesia, this modern plastic surgery is done entirely from within the nose so as to leave no external scars. An average of three hours is required to reshape a deformed nose. Previous to the operation, negative and positive casts must be made. Then, four different photographic views are taken to bring out the high-lights of the abnormalities. For veterans with depressed or twisted noses, Dr. Delman inserts new cartilages or bones into the nose to provide more perfect air passage and to restore its former shape.

"In addition to providing more comfortable breathing, rhinoplastic surgery has raised the veterans' psychological morale tremendously by correcting the facial distortion they suffered in the service," Dr. Delman stated as he pointed to the contrasting before and after views of five operations already performed.

Dr. Delman, a graduate of Tufts Medical School, received a Master in Science degree at Boston University. He served four years in the Army, during which time he completed courses in maxillo facial and rhino facial surgery at Harvard Medical School under Drs. Kazanjian and Schall and the Fomon Clinic at Manhattan General Hospital, New York City.

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, on Sunday, June 23.

The Golden Text, "The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth; by understanding hath he established the heavens," is from Proverbs (3:19). Other Bible citations include: "O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them: all the earth is full of thy riches" (Psalms 104:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God creates and governs the universe, including man. The universe is filled with spiritual ideas, which He evolves, and they are obedient to the Mind that makes them" (p. 295).

LEGAL NOTICES

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Middlesex, ss. Superior Court
Equity No. 13845's
To Newton Centre Savings Bank, of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and to the stockholders of the Newton Centre Associates, their heirs, assigns, devisees or beneficiaries, and to the Attorney General of the Commonwealth.
Whereas a petition in equity has been begun in our Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex wherein the plaintiff, Irving C. Paul, of said Newton, alleges that he is the Vice-President of record of a dissolved charitable corporation known as the Newton Centre Associates which was incorporated December 29, 1886 and thereafter became the owner of certain real estate in Newton Centre, Massachusetts; that prior to dissolution of said corporation on September 30, 1920 the equity of said real estate was sold for cash and said cash distributed ratably among the holders of certificates representing shares of stock in the corporation, in accordance with a vote of the stockholders of said corporation; that at the time of its dissolution the officers of the corporation consisted of a President, a Vice-President, a Treasurer and a Clerk and that all said officers are now deceased except the plaintiff; that the Newton Centre Savings Bank has in its hands and possession a deposit book No. 13750 standing in the name of the Newton Centre Associates in the amount of $649.53; that the plaintiff believes that a large part, if not all, of this deposit, including interest, is the result of the non-payment by the corporation of certain sums due certain shareholders by reason of the failure of certain stockholders to surrender their outstanding certificates of stock or to give bond to the corporation in lieu thereof; as to whether he has the right to withdraw the aforesaid funds or to the proper disposal by him of said funds.

And the plaintiff prays, among other things, that the Newton Centre Savings Bank be ordered to pay costs and expenses of these proceedings out of the aforesaid deposit and to pay the balance thereof to the petitioner and for instructions as to the disposal by him of said balance.

Upon the foregoing petition it is ordered by the Court that the plaintiff notify the stockholders of the Newton Centre Associates, their heirs, assigns, devisees or beneficiaries, that on the first Monday of August next, which Monday is the return day of this notice, or within such further time as the law allows, they must cause their written appearance to be entered and their written answer or other lawful pleadings to be filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Cambridge in said County, and further that they must defend against said petition according to law, if they intend to make any defence, by publication of an attested copy hereof in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said Newton, once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication to be fourteen days at least before said first Monday of August and to notify the Attorney General of the Commonwealth by serving upon him an attested copy hereof.

By the Court, (Baker, J.)

THE EASY WAY—If you don't enjoy relaxing in the conventional manner, then try Ruth Rau's system, guaranteed to make the reading of that good book more interesting. ### The Backyard Gardener

"Slim and Trim" was a headline which caught my eye in a newspaper recently. I'm passing along a digest of the item, thinking it might give you an added incentive as it did me.

The fountain of youth has been rediscovered, and believe it or not it is the measure of the waistline. A group of "sick folks," 55 to 60 and fat, were put on a diet, exercised, and taught proper posture.

I'm not 55 yet; I think I exercise plenty in handling my 5500 square feet of garden space; but according to Mom I'm still too fat around the middle.

Anyway, the experiments which were conducted at the University of California report that the years along with the pounds slipped off. Rejuvenated in spirit and body the old folks returned with new vigor to jobs for which they thought they were too old.

With millions facing starvation, to be fat is not only unfashionable, but it verges on the immoral. The fleshy advertise themselves as having consumed more than their share of food.

All in all, those are words of wisdom but, as they say on the radio, if the pain persists—I mean if the fat persists—see your doctor.

As I read in the newspapers, vegetables are about the only food which is in plentiful supply. Of course you've heard me argue in favor of home canning, and I want to emphasize that again and again. Home canning or home freezing will be popular with the housewives this summer. Or should I say proper rather than popular? It may reach the stage where it's not so popular, but very necessary. Right now it's a case of using vegetables in your meals to keep down that waistline and to save on foods which are not available. Incidentally, "Vegetables in Your Meals" is the title of a little leaflet which Mom uses regularly. It came from the State College up at Amherst and gives innumerable ways of using vegetables.

I know the housewives are always interested in getting menus, so if it happens to be a man who casts his eye over this column, you might suggest to your better half this little leaflet which is free for the asking. You can send your request direct to the Mailing Room at Massachusetts State College, Amherst.

And of course remember that vegetables used in place of wheat or meat will help keep you slim and trim and also feeling younger than you've felt for years.

Plan Braille Press Plant in Boston

Contributions amounting to $25,000 have been received by the National Braille Press in their drive for $65,000 for a publishing plant in Boston, it has been announced by Mrs. Durham Jones and Mrs. Elmore I. MacPhie (both of Newton), members of the Building Fund Committee.

This organization publishes and distributes, without charge, a weekly newspaper and two monthly magazines to blind readers throughout this country and the English speaking world. In addition to its three publications it also conducts a hand-braille transcribing school where over 200 volunteer transcribers have brailled 37,432 pages during the past year, of text books for blind students, as well as any subject material requested by finger readers from poems to religious books. Recently, a request from the Territory of Hawaii was received asking for assistance in their program for the blind.

The purpose of this Building Fund drive is to purchase a permanent home to house the many facilities of this organization now in widely scattered sections of the city and suburbs. Contributions are being sent to Charles Boyden, treasurer, 50 Congress street, Boston.

Newton Residents Enroll in Blue Cross

The Blue Cross Community Enrollment campaign opened in Newton and the fourteen other cities and towns of Greater Boston yesterday to provide those who do not work at a company large enough to form a group, an opportunity to secure Blue Cross protection against hospital bills.

According to Miss Helen Hussey of the Blue Cross staff, over one hundred and fifty Newton citizens visited the enrollment center in the offices of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, 308 Washington street the first day. Miss Hussey stated that both civic and business organizations are cooperating in an effort to have as many people protected by Blue Cross as possible, and that with the present interest, well over seven hundred and fifty people will have joined Blue Cross before the campaign ends the night of June 27. "People who work where less than five people are employed, those who are self-employed, and those who do not work at all, can join Blue Cross in a matter of minutes without a physical examination, a health questionnaire and irrespective of age," said Miss Hussey. "Information will also be given those who wish to form a Blue Cross Employee Group."

*Conservative anticipated estimate based on average attendance of more than 50 Massachusetts cities and towns in previous campaigns.

League of Women Voters

The problem of temporary housing for veterans should be met squarely and immediate action should be forthcoming. It is anticipated that Newton will soon have twelve hundred homeless veterans—there are over sixty now. Why delay definite action?

The necessary steps for fining out what is available from every source should be taken at once.

Let there be a time limit—say five years.

Let there be restrictions for good sanitary conditions. Where the zoning laws permit let large old houses be converted into apartments or homes for several families.

But let's see action and keep faith with our returned veterans!

Helpful Hints For Toilers In Backyard Gardens

Is your garden all planted? I hear that question so often these days I'm convinced that Yankee home folks are wise to the importance of garden grown products—fresh and canned, especially canned.

But in today's note I want to mention spring pruning. My lilies went by a week or so ago; my bridal wreath is in full bloom; and my mock orange is just coming into bloom. I mention them because the general rule is to prune these shrubs right after the blooming period.

Spring pruning is a good deal like raising children. You can't find any hard and fast rule which applies to each and every one. Some folks may try to give you one, but they won't work in all cases. When it comes to pruning shrubs, it depends on the variety, the location, the goal toward which you're working. Yet there are certain fundamental things to keep in mind, and there are certain tools which you should have.

As to tools, a good sharp pocket knife is one of the first requirements where you have overgrown shrubs. A pair of pruning shears for small woody material and some long handled lopping shears for larger shrubs. And of course a pruning saw is a very valuable piece of equipment. When shrubs begin to get large the only way you can make a clean cut is with a saw. A clean cut is necessary if the stub is to heal properly.

As I get it, there are two general methods of pruning. One is to shape the plant into a definite form such as a hedge. The other is to keep the plant within bounds, yet leave it in its natural shape.

If you want to form a compact hedge, then you clip at the end of the branches. It doesn't matter much when you clip a hedge. The point is you must clip often enough to keep to the size you want. But remember this—the more often you clip it, the more compact it's going to be. Clip so that the top of the hedge is narrower than the bottom of the hedge. This allows the sunlight to reach the branches underneath more readily and keeps those branches from dying and dropping their leaves or needles.

With shrubs like bridal wreath, never try to put them into a hedge. If you want a hedge, find out from a landscape architect what plants will thrive under severe end pruning. A bridal wreath pruned into a hedge will look like—well, I'll leave you to supply the words.

Bridal wreath, mock orange, and such plants which have a tendency to grow into graceful shrubs need pruning at the bottom—right down to the ground in other words. One-third pruned each year is a good guide, though that would vary.

Also keep this in mind as you prune—that the new wood formed this year produces the flower buds for next year. So cut out the old wood now and give the bush a chance to form new wood for next year's flowers. With lilacs or other shrubs which form big seed heads, be sure to cut off those old dried heads. With those dried heads cut off, the shrub puts its strength into forming new flower buds instead of ripening the seeds.

48 Newton Donors Give Blood For Community Use

Forty-eight residents of Newton donated blood to be used as plasma or its derivatives for the use of the community when the Massachusetts Blood Donor Mobile Unit visited Newton Red Cross last week. "We are indeed grateful to these civic-minded people," said Mrs. C. Terry Collins, chairman of the Blood Donor committee, "though we are disappointed that we did not reach our quota of donations at this time. However, we are looking forward to another visit from the Unit in the fall, and hope that many more donors will respond to the appeal for blood."

Mrs. Collins paid especial tribute to the splendid cooperation given Red Cross by the ministers who made a special announcement from the pulpits last week: to the Charles River Country Club, Braeburn Country Club, Commonwealth Country Club and Woodland Golf Club for their assistance; and to H. P. Hool & Sons, White Brothers, and the Whiting Milk Company who put "collars" on their milk bottle deliveries in Newton, appealing for donors.

buds for next year. So cut out the old wood now and give the bush a chance to form new wood for next year's flowers. With lilacs or other shrubs which form big seed heads, be sure to cut off those old dried heads. With those dried heads cut off, the shrub puts its strength into forming new flower buds instead of ripening the seeds.

As I said, there are exceptions to all rules. Take the broadleaved evergreens such as rhododendrons and azaleas. You don't prune these plants so heavily as you do forsythia or mock orange. We prune these only sparingly, if at all, or to take out mal-formed growth. With evergreens early spring pruning is the best rule, though you could head them back a little most any time provided you don't get too rambunctious. That's where the jackknife comes in handy. Just nip off the ends of the longer growing twigs.

Wilfred Chagnon, Speaker At State Pharmaceutical Convention — Retires as President

Before a large gathering of druggists representing nearly every city in the state, Wilfred Chagnon, 1945-1946 President of the Massachusetts State Pharmaceutical Association, delivered the annual address. The occasion was the 65th Annual Convention of the Association at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Mass. Highlights of Chagnon's address were as follows:

"The annual address of a retiring president might well be a long one. Because I have a preference for deeds rather than words, I will speak briefly about the year we have ended. I will give the highlights of our accomplishments and recommendations for future action.

Our membership has increased 133, to a new total of 1533. The goal is 100% and the drive should be continued. Every retail druggist can benefit by association with us and we need their help. Good work has been done to enact constructive legislation and to prevent the passage of laws that would set back the safeguards we have attained. Health and safety laws are being maintained and education standards are kept up. The veteran's aid measures which proved of genuine assistance to the returning service man has been greatly supported. We have approved a law that will permit the Board of Pharmacy and the U. S. Veterans' Administration to approve schools especially for veterans' use.

Our pre-requisite law has again been maintained by banning the product of the so-called "Teacher of Pharmacy" in Springfield. This school, if such it can be called, is typical of the low-standard institutions which would spring up overnight were not laws supported to limit their activities.

Many attempts have been made to break down or limit our State Drug Laws. We were successful in defeating them all. The confusion resulting from excessive Federal regulations has reached a state of chaos. Something must be done at once to simplify the laws relative to labelling of prescription items. Let us hope the end of the era of regimentation is not far off and we will once again be back to our customary democratic way of life.

Our Association has always favored free, open and fair competition. We have likewise been opposed to unfair practices of price-cutting and loss-leader selling. Now that the war is over, we may expect a greater production of materials and supplies, with a tendency toward unfair competitive methods. Our Fair Trade Commission should again prove

Newton Centre Savings Bank Observes 50th Birthday

A dinner in observance of the 50th anniversary of the Newton Centre Savings Bank was held at the Brae Burn Country Club on Tuesday, June 25, attended by 50 persons including incorporators, trustees and employees.

Among the guests were Seward W. Jones of 49 Columbus street, Newton Highlands, one of the founders of the bank, who served as its president from June 22, 1896, until 1915, and is still a member of the board of investment of the bank. Mr. Jones is now in his 90th year, and is president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Joseph Earl Perry, president of the Newton Savings Bank and former state bank commissioner was the principal speaker. Other speakers were Mayor Paul M. Goddard, William H. Rice, president of the Newton Centre Savings Bank; Frank L. Richardson, executive vice-president of the Newton-Waltham Bank & Trust Company; Harry J. Carlson, clerk of the Newton Centre Savings Bank since 1911, who presented a brief history of the institution; Harold P. Jenks, in charge of savings banks for the State Banking Commissioner's office; Kenneth MacDougall, manager of the Massachusetts Savings Bank Association; George Sweet, president of the Newton National Bank; W. J. Spaulding, president of the Auburndale Co-operative Bank; Kenneth W. Rogers, president of the Newton Bankers' Association and assistant treasurer of the West Newton Savings Bank; Charles W. Blood, attorney for the bank; Ellery Peabody, president of the West Newton Co-operative Bank and Frank Stuart, president of the Newton Co-operative Bank.

Community Chest Leaders Organize for 1947 Campaign

The community chest movement in Greater Boston and throughout the country will undergo a crucial test this fall, according to Lawrence B. Damon, President of the Newton Community Chest. At a meeting of the Residential Division leaders at Brae Burn Country Club last Monday evening, Mr. Damon stated that campaign needs for 1947 will not be less than for 1946 in spite of the fact that the campaign this fall will be largely for home-front services.

He pointed out that wage, material, and food increases affect Red Feather Services, which means higher operating expenses even if we are to provide only the same vital services now being rendered. Minimum needs have not been met in all agencies and the hospitals are facing a reconversion from volunteer nurses to paid staffs. Agency budgets will of necessity be higher and as a consequence, concluded Mr. Damon, we must look for and expect locally this fall a goal comparable with that of last year.

Fifty-three Newton Community Chest Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, Majors, and guests attended the meeting presided over by John F. Brown, Chairman of the Residential Division for the 1947 Campaign. At the meeting it was reported that all Residential Village Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, and Majors were enrolled and that 94 out of 189 Captains had been appointed. Mr. Brown asked for complete enrollment of Captains by July 10 and stated that he hoped that each chairman would consider this deadline as positive.

Franklin K. Hoyt, 1947 Newton Campaign Chairman, complimented the division leaders on the fine personnel that they had enlisted this year for volunteer leadership. He stated that in his opinion success in the campaign depends more than anything else upon a carefully selected organization and urged an early enrollment of workers.

Chairman Brown discussed with the leaders the program of the summer months and of the fall, stating that village meetings would be held in October with Village Chairmen, Assistant Chairmen, Majors, and Captains present. He urged the chairmen to plan well in advance for these meetings and to make every effort to have a full attendance. Because of the changing picture this year, he feels that it is necessary for all leaders to know the story that must be told to make the campaign the success all will want it to be. Mr. Brown urged also that worker meetings be planned just previous to the opening of the campaign, these meetings to be called by the Residential Captains who will explain the needs to the men who will actually make the calls.

Leave to withdraw was also given on the petition of Richard A. Capello for a greenhouse permit at 182 River street, Ward 4 and the petition of Salvatore Brasco for greenhouse permit, extension 2101 Washington street, Ward 4. Others granted leave to withdraw were: Newhouse Corporation of America, waiver of set-back, 148 Derby street, Ward 3; Harvard University, zoning Ordinance permit, 140 Sargent street, Ward 7 (at the request of the petitioner); Boston & Albany Railroad for change from single residence C, to manufacturing zone, land on Grove street, Ward 4; and Philip Enholm for change from private residence to business zone, land on Washington street, Ward 1.

Newton's Junior College

Since returning servicemen have overflowed our colleges at a time when advanced education is sought more than ever, our school authorities have presented a solution of the problem, not only for veterans but for the many high school graduates whose continued education otherwise would suffer. Temporary branch college facilities at Fort Devens may aid the situation as to veterans, but this plan provides for others duly qualified.

The standards of such a one or two-year course must be zealously guarded, and of course will be approved by authorities so that students may pass from Newton's classes to regular colleges and universities with full, regular acceptance. The legislature has approved such participation in higher education until June 30, 1951, by which time it is hoped that public school systems will withdraw from the field hitherto properly left to the collegiate group.

Obviously tuition charges cannot exceed costs, and equally obviously such education should not fall to the expense of the taxpayer. The tuition rates as announced are low compared with established college rates, which fact represents its disturbing reactions.

The prospectus supplying all details will soon be available, and will serve to illustrate the capability with which Newton's School System maintains reliability of "tops" education, extending the reputation of the City in this outstanding feature.

(The opinions expressed in this column are the writer's own, and do not necessarily reflect the views or policy of this newspaper.—Editor's Note).

Primary Comments

Suppose we take a brief glance this week at the results of the June 18 Primaries and the outlook for the winning candidates of both parties next November.

Neither Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., nor Senator David I. Walsh were opposed for their nomination for the U. S. Senate. At the moment, it is my judgment that Senator Walsh has his back to the wall and is due for the stiffest contest he has ever known in his long career. He really seems to have slipped during the past two or three years. Also, knowing Col. Lodge as I do, it occurs to me that he would never have let himself in for this battle had he not coolly calculated his chances prior to the announcement of his candidacy.

For the Governorship, Bob Bradford has no primary scars to heal. Not that Governor Tobin need worry too much about the fact that an unknown received a very sizeable vote in his contest with him. That scar will doubtless be healed to a considerable extent. However, Bradford has a great deal of campaign ammunition resulting from the Governor's ineptness while the Legislature was in session. I'll grant that the Governor had good fortune in getting his vetoes sustained. That, however, is not the whole story. Even the admirers of the gentlemen in the front office must admit, to themselves, that there was much stalling and indecision as well as a number of sour appointments.

This contest rates tops at the moment and may be even closer than the Lodge-Walsh battle. Arthur Coolidge may have a hard time turning back Paul A. Dever for Lt. Governor. The latter came very close to defeating Leverett Saltonstall not so many years ago. I see to recall a recount. Coolidge will be forced to campaign before November. He cannot rely on the Republican machine to win a victory for him. Watch this contest closely.

Another Republican who has his hands full, curiously enough, is my old friend Clarence A. Barnes, who must turn back Frankie Kelly once again for the vital office of Attorney General. Let us hope that there will be enough Democrats and independents who will vote with Republicans to push Barnes across the line a winner.

Laurence Curtis will have a very tough time defeating the incumbent John E. Hurley for Treasurer. He failed four years ago to beat another Hurley and the margin was not small. More about this later on. Also, Russell A. Wood, another old campaigner whom I met years and years ago, will have a difficult time defeating the incumbent, Thomas J. Buckley, for Auditor. Buckley, like Hurley, is another of those magic names which the voters fall for with painful regularity, quite regardless of the respective merits of the opposing candidates.

Our Congressman, Christian A.

Herter, is opposed by Paul J. McCarthy, who defeated two ladies in the Democratic primary. McCarthy should prove less formidable than Carey two years ago. The prospects of a Herter victory seem rather good at this early date. He has been a good Congressman.

In the Governor's Council, Col. Otis M. Whitney trounced Rep. Chase of Boston and Edmund J. Cheney of Lowell. Newton gave Whitney a lead of 1,215 over Rep. Chase, with Cheney securing a mere handful of votes here. Inasmuch as Chase had a margin over Whitney of only 1,418 in Boston, where Chase was forced to rely on his best showing, and inasmuch as Whitney carried both Watertown and Waltham by more than 600 votes, it was obvious that Whitney would win. He piled up a huge margin in all the small towns save one and therefore defeated Rep. Chase by 3,796 votes. Cheney was far, far behind, despite the fact that he carried his home city of Lowell. Even in that city, Rep. Chase bowed to Whitney. The latter was well received here in Newton, where it was obvious that the late Frank A. Brooks of West Concord has many many friends.

In the election in November, when Col. Whitney meets the Democrat, Francis J. Callahan of Boston, he should win handily, provided that the G.O.P. does not take things for granted.

In the State Senate fight, Richard H. Lee of Newton meets Casper Thomas Dorfman of Newton. I do not chance to know the latter and I can therefore say little at the moment about his chances. Ordinarily, however, any good Republican can win this fight without undue difficulty, despite the fact that a part of Cambridge and a part of Boston is included in this district.

In the House of Representatives, Rep. Rawson and Rep. Whittemore have no opposition in November. On the other side of the city, Rep. Spear and nominee Howard Whitmore will have to turn back Joseph L. Spolkin of 23 Elinor road, Newton. Here again, I do not seek to recall meeting the Democratic nominee in the course of my rambles for three decades. A fair guess would seem to be that Rep. Spear will win re-election and that Whitmore will also win.

Space forbids going further into the results of the Primaries this week. Later, however, I want to call attention to some interesting developments which are making Newton behave somewhat differently than in the past. P.W.C.

Aspiring candidates for the United States Military and Naval Academies have been notified by Congressman Christian A. Herter that there will be vacancies at both Academies for the class entering in 1947 from the 10th Congressional District. Congressman Herter will be selecting candidates for two vacancies at Annapolis and one at West Point, and competitive examinations will be held on July 24 at various points throughout the country. With both Academies going back to a peace-time basis, the new classes entering in 1947 will complete the usual four year course of studies instead of the three year wartime accelerated course.

A Message to Mr. and Mrs. Citizen From The Newton League of Women Voters

REQUEST FOR ACTION

There have been some unexpected and disturbing developments in connection with domestic legislation for the control of atomic energy. S. 1717, the McMahon Bill, which passed the Senate unanimously and received the approval of the President, the Secretary of War, and an overwhelming number of citizens' groups is now being considered in the House Committee on Military Affairs.

This Committee is in the process of amending the Bill so that it now goes even beyond the original May-Johnson Bill in the degree of influence which it gives the military. One amendment provides that one member of the five-man Commission must be a representative of the armed forces; another amendment makes it permissive for a second military man to be a member of the Commission. A third amendment provides that the Director of the Department of Military Application under the Commission must be a member of the armed forces. Still another amendment permits the President to by-pass the Commission completely in order to authorize the military services to manufacture, produce or acquire any equipment or device using fissionable materials or atomic energy as a military weapon.

The McMahon Bill, as amended by the Committee, will probably be reported out of the Military Affairs Committee next week. It is absolutely essential that the military-control amendments be removed when the Bill comes to the floor of the House. The supremacy of civilian over military control is one of the basic principles of our government. In attempting to place the military in the position of making national policy on this level, the House Committee is clearly going against our traditional concept of government and against the will of a vast majority of the people.

Furthermore, by passing a Bill so radically different from the Senate version which passed unanimously, the House would make a conference necessary before there could be final legislation. This might mean, in turn, that no atomic energy legislation would be passed before Congress adjourns for the summer.

It is of the utmost importance that the United States should back up the excellent policy for international control of atomic energy which was proposed to the United Nations by Mr. Baruch on June 14 by removing its own atomic energy plant from military control at once.

Members of the House of Representatives should be urged to vote against the military-control amendments, and for S. 1717 as passed by the Senate.

Swimming Classes Start in July

Newton Red Cross today announced the inauguration of its "Learn to Swim" campaign, during Swim for Health Week (June 24-29) for the benefit and safety of the citizens of this community. This is an integral part of the Red Cross's nationwide endeavor to educate the American people in the prevention of water accidents, according to Frank E. Dowett, water safety director of Newton Red Cross.

Classes will start Monday, July 1, and will be held throughout the season from 9 to 12, and 2 to 5, Mondays through Fridays at Crystal Lake; and from 9 to 12, Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, at the Auburndale playground. Children from five years old and over may enroll, and there will be separate classes for beginners, intermediates and advanced swimmers. The aquatic schoolroom will be under the supervision of Miss Claire McCarthy, assisted by Miss Phyllis Moran and Miss Virginia Murphy.

"It doesn't matter how old you are," Mr. Dowett declares, "Age does not count in swimming. All children should be taught the art of swimming and their parents should insist upon their learning, under proper supervision and safeguard, of course. Last year in Newton, there were three deaths by water accidents. Let us have no fatalities this year!"

Registration for classes may be made at Crystal Lake all this week and on Monday morning, July 1. Registration day at the Auburndale playground will be Wednesday morning, July 3. An evening class for adults is being planned at Crystal Lake, and registrations will be accepted during the week of July 1, and Monday evening, July 8, from 7 to 8.

The members of the Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Antonio Valente, 16 Shawmut Park, Newton Upper Falls, with Mrs. George Brace and as co-hostess on Monday, June 24, at 7 p.m. A small group of the members visited the following gardens in Newton Upper Falls on Boylston street, Mrs. J. K. Hemphills, 1195, Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens, 1190, Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Cormerais, 1224 Boylston street, on Rockland place, Mrs. John Lucas No. 4, Mrs. D. Each member answered the roll call with a specimen of a blue flower that blooms in June. The president, Mrs. Henry A. Sharrett, announced a bridge and whist party in her garden, 48 Cottage street, on July 9 at 1:30 p.m.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elmer Atwell, 36 Indiana terrace, with Mrs. John Donlon as co-hostess.

Newton Rotary Club

On Friday, June 21, the speaker at the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club was Elwood Zimmerman, Entomologist for the sugar cane industry in the Hawaiian Islands, who gave an interesting and instructive talk on the Islands of which there are eighteen covering a distance of 1500 miles; the eight main islands, on which are situated the cities and large plantations, cover a distance as long as from Boston to Washington; their area is 5500 square miles about 4 1/2 the size of Massachusetts. There are many high mountains, some with snow at their summit the year around and where there is plenty of skiing. In some areas they have very heavy rainfall, as much as 51 ft. per year, while 15 miles away they may have as little as 15 inches a year.

The islands being of volcanic origin are entirely different from the mainland, strange trees and plants; no animals or snakes. Mr. Zimmerman told of the pests that have invaded the islands, that at times have practically ruined their crops. In particular he told of the sugar cane leaf hopper that from 1900 until it was brought under control by 1930, inflicted serious loss on the sugar crop, which is their principal source of revenue.

During the war years many new pests, due to the lack of proper control, became established in the Islands and are still causing considerable damage. The impression gained from Mr. Zimmerman's excellent talk was that the Islands offer many attractions to the tourists, but to those who make their living from the soil, that Massachusetts still is a good place to live.

Dorfman, Democrat, Nominee for Senate Polls 4669 Votes

Final tabulation of the votes in the Middlesex-Suffolk Senatorial district which includes the City of Newton, Ward 5 Cambridge, and Ward 22 Brighton shows that 4669 votes were cast in behalf of Casper Thomas Dorfman of Newton, Boston lawyer and newspaperman the winning Democratic nominee.

The Republican nominee received approximately 3100 votes in the senatorial district.

Dorfman is Judge Advocate of the Eugene Joseph Daley Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, a member of the Newton Post American Legion and the American Veterans Committee. He served with the Pacific amphibious forces and is holder of six bronze battle stars for participation in amphibious landings in New Guinea, Dutch East Indies, Philippines and Borneo.

Chagnon—

a bulwark of strength. It is our policemen on the job to protect us from unfair competition.

Your officers have worked in harmony and cooperation throughout the year. I am grateful to every one of them for the faithful performance of duty. There is need, however, for many other members of our Association to take an active part in the work. Many of you would come to understand much better your own business and be of valuable aid to your associates, if you could participate in our united efforts.

We must be prepared to change our stores and our practices to induce the public to buy in drug stores. A recent survey indicates that people prefer to buy drugs, medicines and incidentals in our stores rather than in the markets or department stores. We must be alert to keep this business.

To my successor, I pledge cooperation and all good wishes. If he has the same measure of devoted assistance that my fellow officers have given to me, his term will be a happy and successful one. To those who have prepared for this Convention and to the many who have carried out the work of the year, I express my sincere thanks.

In accordance with the long-established custom of the Association, I submit to my successor and to the Association a list of recommendations for the coming year. These you may find in the printed leaflet.

Again thanking you for the privilege I have enjoyed, I know I will look back with satisfaction and cherish the friends and associations that have been my reward for the work of this busy year.

On June 22, Mr. Chagnon addressed his fellow druggists over Radio Station WEEL. He spoke substantially as follows:

"This Convention affords the retail druggists of Massachusetts an opportunity to get together and discuss their mutual problems and to better their relationship with the buying public. It will give us all an opportunity to learn how to improve our stores so that we may better be prepared to meet the future competition."

"I have been a firm believer that drugs should be sold in the drug store and that the public prefer to buy their drugs and medicines in the drug store. It will be necessary for the retail druggist to so conduct his business as to attract into his store the consumer who really believes that the drug store is the proper and suitable place to acquire his medicinal needs."

"I believe that the retail druggist will have to modernize his store as the buying public will expect this from him. The retail drug store has come to be known as the community center and has become an American institution."

"I trust that we shall encourage a greater community relationship with the public so that they may know that in the drug store is to be found a competent and friendly advisor catering to their needs, and in conjunction with the family doctor helping to serve the health problems of the family."

LET'S GET THE FACTS RIGHT ABOUT THE WHISKEY SITUATION!

Simple questions and direct answers that will explain what's happening...and why.

How long will whiskey be hard to get?

Q. Why is whiskey still scarce?

A. No whiskey was distilled during the greater part of the war. All distillers' facilities were devoted to the production of war alcohol. During this period, however, distillers continued to bottle whiskey from their warehouse inventories, reducing supplies of aging whiskeys to a low point.

Q. Haven't distillers replenished their whiskey stocks since the war?

A. No. Because of the shortage of grain, the amounts available to distillers have been drastically reduced. Therefore whiskey has been produced only intermittently...currently at the rate of three days a month. And, of course, whiskey distilled now cannot be used until properly matured.

Q. How long will the shortage last?

A. It will be three or four years before the whiskey distilled since the war is adequately aged and ready to drink. Straight whiskeys of "Bondable" age (4 years or more) won't be plentiful until after 1949...younger straight whiskeys not much sooner. Scotch may be scarce even longer. The shortage of better quality Blends will also continue for at least 3 or 4 years.

Q. How long must whiskey be aged?

A. To be called "Straight", whiskey must be aged at least two years. To be called "bottled-in-bond", whiskey must be aged four years. Good Blends usually contain blending whiskeys aged 4 to 8 years.

Q. Is "bottled-in-bond" whiskey of better quality than other types?

A. No. The U.S. Government itself, in Treasury Decision No. 1299 says: "Bottled-in-bond stamp not a guarantee of quality." The "bottled-in-bond" stamp guarantees only quantity...that the whiskey is 100 proof and not less than 4 years old. All whiskey is made under government supervision and stored in warehouses under government bond. The "bottled-in-bond" stamp is merely a government tax classification method.

Q. Why is more blended whiskey on the market than other types?

A. In blended whiskeys a major ingredient is grain neutral spirits which are more readily available than straight whiskeys. Like the grain spirit whiskeys of Scotland used in Scotch whiskey, and the highly refined grain distillate used in Canadian whiskey, grain neutral spirits when properly produced make for a lighter, milder-tasting whiskey.

Q. Are grain neutral spirits ever aged?

A. Yes. But in America, the law does not allow a distiller to advertise that his grain neutral spirits have been aged. Despite this, some distillers mature grain neutral spirits in barrels to the exact point where they can contribute the utmost in flavor, mellowness, bouquet and body.

Q. Is blended whiskey "cut" whiskey?

A. No! At Calvert it is just the opposite. It is built up...a whiskey created to meet exacting standards of uniformity, bouquet, flavor and mellowness. Various carefully selected, aged base whiskeys and grain neutral spirits are blended together scientifically to achieve the exact qualities and character Calvert knows the consumer prefers.

Q. Is it easier to make Blends?

A. No. Blending is not "mixing", but is a scientific procedure in which compatible straight whiskeys and grain neutral spirits are brought together to arrive at a predetermined, uniform taste. Successful blending depends upon "know how," based on long experience and the use of costly special equipment. For instance, at Calvert's distillery there is a "library" of hundreds of whiskeys and grain neutral spirits, each catalogued according to its characteristics, compatibility, etc. Calvert specializes in Blends...markets no other types.

Distilling and aging are not the end—but the beginning—of the long process through which Calvert whiskeys pass. In other words, blending begins where distilling ends.

Q. Are Blends more popular than other types of whiskey?

A. Decidedly! After Repeal, only 10% of all whiskey sold was blended whiskey. By 1942, before the whiskey shortage, the trend to Blends was so great that the figure was 50%. Today, 80% of all whiskey sold is blended whiskey...and undoubtedly, many distillers who are making blended whiskey for the first time will continue to produce it to meet the popular demand.

Q. What does blending accomplish?

A. Three things. It creates a product with a distinctive character, impossible without blending. It assures uniformity that could not be achieved in any other way. And it makes possible a definitely lighter product. Cigarettes, coffee, tea—dozens of products Americans use are blends.

Q. Do Blends vary in quality?

A. Yes. Just as methods, ingredients and standards vary. Huge resources in plants, equipment, and expert personnel enable Calvert to produce whiskeys which have made the name CALVERT a hallmark of quality. Out of Calvert's extensive laboratories have come exclusive processes that have made possible whiskeys of unmatched smoothness.

Q. Are Calvert Blends superior to others?

A. We think so, because Calvert has blended more fine whiskey in its time than any other distiller in America. Calvert's matchless inventories, greater experience, and devotion to high quality products during the shortage period give ample evidence that the House of Blends can be relied upon to produce the best.

What's the low-down on Blended Whiskey?

What makes some whiskeys better?

FIRE PREVENTION SERVICE

On the Fourth of July each year many lives are lost and much property is destroyed by fires, both unnecessarily.

Today more than ever before we are all slaves to the destructive forces of fire. In most cases these fires are the direct result of our own carelessness.

Fireworks and firecrackers are one of the largest causes for the rapid increase in fires and the unnecessary injury to people at this time of the year. Both of these losses can be lowered now by using common sense on our part.

Few people realize the explosive forces fireworks contain. Many of the ingredients contained in fireworks are used in the manufacture of ammunitions. They possess both fire and explosive hazards. If any of these substances should get into a cut, infection may result unless precautions are taken at the time it occurs.

The sale of firecrackers has been banned in this state. The result has been the lowering of fires and accidents from this cause. Here are a few simple things to remember when handling fireworks:

Do not allow small children to handle or play with fireworks or firecrackers unless there is some older person with them. Show the children how to handle them correctly and safely, thus preventing injury to themselves.

Do not throw firecrackers at people. This act might cause some injury or the loss of eyesight.

Do not throw firecrackers in the air where there are buildings close at hand. They may lodge in some part of the building and start a fire.

Store all fireworks away from all open lights, high temperatures and in a place where there is not too much moisture and away from other articles.

Keep fireworks in a metal container if possible.

Do not store fireworks in the home all the year. Use them all up on the fourth. Chemical changes take place under some conditions and spontaneous ignition may result.

If we all do our part to handle whatever fireworks we have correctly we will be doing a lot toward keeping our families and homes safe. You need your Newton home. Newton appreciates good citizens. It is our patriotic duty to make it a safe and sane holiday now so that we will not have any regrets tomorrow.

Get B.F. Goodrich—Safest Buy in Tires!

When you're traveling at breakneck speed on life-or-death calls, you've got to have a tire that's safe. That's why B.F. Goodrich had police of three states test the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown. What's the verdict of millions of miles of recorded road tests? That the new B.F. Goodrich tire outwears prewar tires, that it is better than prewar tires in many ways.

Come in and see us now for the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

You need "police car protection" for your family too. Why take chances with your tires when you can have complete peace of mind with the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown? This is the tire with the famous B.F. Goodrich-engineered "road level" tread that gives you more rubber where you need it — on the road! That means plenty of traction for driving, plenty of grip for stopping, more tread to share the wear. Yes, even at high speeds, the new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown actually OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES!

Come in today and see if we have your size in stock.

Listen in the new B.F. Goodrich radio quiz "Detect and Collect" with Lew Lehr as M. C. on ABC network, Thursday evening.
